RT. 15 DAMAGE APPEAL CASE BEING HEARD

The new Route 15 around Gettysburg damaged a good dairy farm when it passed through the property of John D. and Edna M. Eckert, in Straban Twp., according to testimony in Adams County court this morning.

Details of Eckert's farm operation were presented in the appeal from the award of the board of viewers in the taking of land owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eckert by the commonwealth's Department of Highways in April, 1962, for the new highway. The Eckert farm lay along the north side of the Lincoln Highway, at the point where the new Route 15 intersects with Route 30.

Lee M. Hartman, Hanover St. realtor, said he estimated the Eckert farm to be worth $55,583 before the taking of land for the highway, and worth $22,873 afterward. Hartman said the farm was "best suited for farm operations" before the taking and that it is "now not practical as a farm operation on the scale before. It has to be used for farming in a small way only." Hartman was asked whether he had considered the fact that since what was left of the farm forms on the intersection of Route 15 and Route 30, "the two busiest highways in the county," the land might have gained in value for some use other than farming. Hartman replied: "It's now almost a year and no activity of that sort has appeared anywhere along the intersection."

TRAFFIC AND NOISE
Hartman also noted that Eckert's house is now "about 12 feet from the right of way line. So there a lot of noise and a lot of traffic next to the building. It's hard to determine the damage in dollars and cents. It's going to be continuous and last a long time."

Edgar Weaver, Gettysburg R. D., retired farmer, and for 15 years, up to 1958, an appraiser of farms as a committeeman for the Federal Farm Home Association, testified the Eckert farm was worth $56,120 before and $26,166 after the land was taken. Weaver said that before the new highway cut through the Eckert farm "his farm situation was good. There were no lanes, no roads cutting through the farm. It was all one solid block and all farmable except maybe an acre which was a wood lot. The Eckert farm was in a high state of cultivation. I saw the crops that came off of it. And the buildings, everything was handy and convenient. His milk house set up had been approved by three states."

NO CONTAMINATION
"There was no contamination from other stock, no other pastures bordered on his. And his fence was always good. There were two springs in the meadow that never failed, now that the new road came through they're

Mrs. M. E. Ruhlman, York Springs, Dies

Mrs. Jean Marie Ruhlman, 24, York Springs R. 2, Huntington Twp., died at the Hanover Hospital Thursday morning at 6:15 o'clock. She had been in the hospital since Monday and had given birth to an infant that day.

She was born in Gettysburg and is survived by her husband, Melvin E. Ruhlman; a son, Robert, at home, and the infant daughter, Cathie.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Pittenuff Funeral Home, York Springs, with the Rev. Ernest W. Brindle, Hampton, officiating. Burial will be in the Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Lower Merion. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Plan "Open House" At Youth Center

Plans for an "open house" Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the Gettysburg Youth Center, N. Washington St., were announced today by the mothers committee of the organization.

Mrs. Rex Maddox, a member of the committee, said the open house is designed to give the public generally an opportunity to see the center and particularly is designed to afford the parents of the young men and women using the center an opportunity to visit and see the building and meet the adults sponsoring the organization.

Local Airman Found Extreme Poverty In Beautiful Saigon

Day after day of bright sunshine can become one of the most monotonous things in a man's life, especially if it helps to create a hot, humid climate, according to Michael Wieder, 21-year-old son of Mrs. Jean C. Wieder, York St., who has just returned from nearly 12 months in Saigon.

And despite the popular conception of the monsoon season,

Michael says that the rains only help to make the climate more miserable. "The sun shines every day. During the monsoons, which last about five or six weeks from early May through mid-June, the days are hot and humid, with brief showers that only help to make the country steam a little more."

BEAUTIFUL CITY

If the weather were not so miserable, Wieder says, he could live happily in Saigon, where "if you can live first class" it's a beautiful place. The streets are lined with large, old shade trees and the buildings are white or yellow stucco or masonry with tile roofs.

"But there is so much poverty that it would take a long time for me to accept it," he adds. Natives squat on the banks of the rivers or in any area large enough to put up a make-shift shelter. They use cardboard, old barrels or scrap building materials to shelter their families, and they carry water from common "water holes" provided by

BOY SCOUTS' DRIVE NEAR $7,500 GOAL

The Black Walnut Boy Scout District is within $984.25 of its goal of $7,500 in the current fund drive. General Finance Chairman Charles C. Kingston has announced.

Six of the districts have gone over their goal for the campaign designed to raise funds for the Scout operations during the coming year.

Those areas which have exceeded their goals and the amounts raised include: Arendtsville, $435.50; Two Taverns, $151.20; Caststown, $132.30; Idaville-Gardners, $208.50; Mummasburg, $74.75 and Fairfield, $340.

Amounts raised by other districts were listed as: Aspers, $20; Bendersville, $117.25; Biglerville, $205.50; Bonneauville, $35; Heidlersburg, $72.55; Hunterstown, $56.50; Littlestown, $1,158; Orrtanna, $91.50; York Springs, $231.50.

Special gifts collected during the campaign total $3,185.70.

Gettysburg normally raises its share of the Boy Scout campaign through Community Chest. This year the town was several thousand dollars short of its goal in the Community Chest drive and the Scout officials were allowed to collect several hundred dollars in the borough in addition to their share from Community Chest. That amount is included in the special gifts portion of the campaign.

RECEPTION FOR NEW MEMBERS

Aldersgate Sunday will be observed this Sunday at the Gettysburg Methodist Church with a reception for new members received during the 1963-64 church year. Immediately following the morning service, members, old and new, will assemble in Fellowship Hall for a brief get-acquainted period. The reception is being arranged by the Commission on Membership and Evangelism.

Aldersgate Sunday is annually observed as the anniversary of John Wesley's heart-warming experience of May 24, 1738.

Members received into the congregation this year were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Polley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crump, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Pensyl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reider, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Secrist, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Swatsworth, Dr. and Mrs. Harland Stuart, Dr. Francis Herring, Bobby Rakestraw, Mrs. James Thurley, Mrs. Louise Armstrong, Mrs. Jean Jackson, Mrs. Catherine Wantz, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Michael, Miss Bety Diehl, Michael Pensyl, Beth Pensyl, Robert Hoppe, William Ayre, Kathleen Wilde, Robert McClellan, Craig Smith, Samuel Waddell, David Naugle, Thomas Shaull, David Polley, Melanie Deardorff, Sue Clapsaddle, Linda Stoops, Kathie Swiger, James Angell, Kathy Stoops, Debbie Reinhardt, Jane Swatsworth and Mary Jo Swatsworth.

Car Demolished In Rt. 30 Crash

The car of a Littlestown teacher was demolished Wednesday night at 10:30 o'clock in a collision with a truck four miles east of here on the Lincoln Highway.

State police said today that Dorie R. Kint, 42, Gettysburg R. 3, was backing his truck out of a private drive onto the Lincoln Highway when a car operated west by Beverly J. Ritter, 24, E. Middle St., a teacher at Littlestown, crashed into the side of the truck.

The auto was demolished, police said, while damage was estimated at $75 to the truck. No one was injured in the crash. Police said they are continuing their investigation.

FLOWER BEDS PLANTED AT COUNTY HOME

The Chestnut Hill Home and Garden Club Thursday completed planting of seven flower beds at the county home and announced plans to hold its annual spring flower show June 4-5 at Christ Lutheran Church, Aspers.

Work at the county home included planting of petunias and zinnias in seven beds and mulching and fertilizing the patio garden.

The flower show will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. June 4 and from 3 to 9 p.m. June 5 on the theme "Symphony of Flowers." According to the announcement only members of the club will enter flowers in the artistic classes. The public is invited to enter specimens in the horticultural division of the show.

ARTISTIC CLASSES

Artistic classes include "Prelude to Summer," designs featuring roses; "Meditation," arrangements suitable for a church altar; "Garden Medley," a mass arrangement; "Symphonic Rhythm," a line arrangement suggesting motion; "Dance of the Fairies," a miniature arrangement not to exceed five inches; "Woodwinds," a design incorporating weathered or driftwood; "Surrealist Symphony," a modern composition, and "Finale," a design using only dried or treated plant material.

Those entering the horticultural division are asked to have flowers at the church by 11 a.m. on June 4. Classes will include single and double peonies, delphinium, day lilies, foxgloves, Canterbury bells, columbine, lupine, baptista; three blooms

Robert L. Jones, 67, Town Native, Dies

Word has been received here of the sudden death Wednesday in Atlantic City, N.J., of Robert L. Jones, 67, a native of Gettysburg, who was a retired chief guard at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Jones was attending the Baptist convention at the resort city when he suffered a coronary attack.

He was a son of the late Minnie (Gilbert) Jones, who formerly lived here. Surviving are his widow, Eliza (Dove) Jones, and a daughter, Mrs. Ozellah Bell, Blackwood, N.J.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Weems Creek Baptist Church at Annapolis. The Taylor Funeral Chapel at Annapolis is in charge of arrangements.

Rotary Club Will Give Library $500

The Rotary Club today announced it will donate $500 to the Adams County Library Building Fund over a three-year period.

Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, president of the club, said the board of directors approved the donation at a meeting Monday evening following the regular meeting of the Rotarians at the YWCA.

Next Monday night the Rotarians will present gavels to the nine Gettysburg High School Seniors who served as "Junior Rotarians" during the last year. The students in turn will present a program. Walter B. Lane and H. Edgar Riegler are arranging the meeting, Rev. MacAskill said.

COUNCIL VISITS RESTORED MILL NEAR HANOVER

The South Central Travel Council, of which Gettysburg Travel Council is member, Thursday evening visited the newest tourist attraction in the area — the restored Menges Mill near Hanover.

A dozen members of the local group, headed by President Andrew Larson, toured the mill which was constructed in 1734, the mile-long mill race on which boats will carry tourists, the old sawmill, blacksmith shop, store and other structures in the development being established by a corporation headed by Clayton E. Moul. A number of industries in the York, Spring Grove and Hanover areas are planning to place reproductions of the colonial types plants of their specialty at the Menges Mill location. Eventually 30 structures will be erected there and be in operation at the site. The mill will open to the public June 1.

At a meeting held at the Hilltop Inn following the visit, Larson, Kenneth Dick and Walter B. Lane of the local Travel Council were among those who discussed a proposed six-county travel agency for the area. The South Central group includes five travel agencies, Gettysburg, York, Lancaster, Carlisle and Hershey.

Details were outlined of the restoration of the Gold Plough Tavern, General Gates House and the Log House in York. The Tavern was constructed in 1741, the Gates House, where Lafayette stayed, George Washington about 20 years later, and the Log House in 1812. The three are described as "one of the nation's smallest Urban Renewal Projects." Restoration work, completed this year, was carried out by making rafters, nails, and other furnishings in the same fashion they were made at the time the buildings were constructed.

Episcopal Bishop Visits Here Sunday

The Rt. Rev. Earl Miller Honaman, Williamsport, suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Harrisburg, Episcopal church, will make his official visit to the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church Sunday.

At the 8 a.m. service he will celebrate the Holy Eucharist. At 11 a.m. the vicar, Rev. Fr. Robert A. Pearson, will celebrate the Holy Eucharist and Bishop Honaman will administer Holy Communion to Richard A. Hartley, Mrs. Anne Evans, Christopher Hansen and Miss Susan Cleaver. Mrs. Honaman will accompany the bishop and they will be guests at the Hotel Gettysburg.

VANDALISM AND THEFT

Thomas Metz reported to borough police this morning at 8:30 o'clock that someone had broken a basement window at the L. E. Smith building, York St., and had stolen several books from the basement of the building.

Neutralist Commander In Laos Gets 800 Men

By TONY ESCODA
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Gen. Kong Le, hard-pressed commander of the Laotian neutralist army, reportedly has been reinforced by 800 troops who fought through Communist lines to rejoin him southwest of the Plaine des Jarres.

Military sources said the 800 had been cut off southeast of Kong Le's abandoned command post at Muong Phanh last weekend when the Pathet Lao launched an offensive that swept the neutralists from the strategic plateau 110 miles northeast of Vientiane.

Informants who saw Kong Le Thursday said he was in good spirits and intended to remain with his battered forces. There

GIVE $5,669 VERDICT HERE IN DAMAGE SUIT

An Adams County jury late Thursday afternoon found that Charles G. Kachel, Gettysburg R. 5, should pay Robert L. Schroyer, also of Gettysburg R. 5, $5,669 for injuries received in an auto collision between cars driven by the two men. At the same time the jury held that Kachel should pay $669.20 damages to Acco Realty Co., Reading, owner of the car Schroyer was driving, for damages to that vehicle.

The jury returned three verdicts in the dual trial it heard Thursday. In the action in trespass brought by Acco Realty and Schroyer against Kachel, the jury handed up two verdicts, one finding in favor of Acco and against Kachel for the amount of damages to the car owned by Acco. The other found for Schroyer and against Kachel for damages claimed by Schroyer based on injuries to his left shoulder and arm and right thigh and leg, and loss of wages. The third verdict was in Kachel's suit against Schroyer and American Casualty Co., in which the jury found "for the defendants, Robert L. Schroyer and American Casualty Co., and against the plaintiff, Charles G. Kachel."

Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, Bendersville, was foreman of the jury.

The case resulted from an auto accident November 15, 1962, three miles east of here along the Hanover Rd. According to the testimony, Schroyer, an employee of Acco Realty, was driving his car on the Hanover Rd. when Kachel's vehicle entered the highway from a field along the north side of the road.

Among physicians who testified Thursday afternoon were Dr. Steven Maina, a neurosurgeon, and Drs. Harrison Harbach and Roy Gifford of Gettysburg.

The jury returned with its verdict at 6:11 p.m.

23 OF TIMES CARRIERS GO TO N. Y. FAIR

Twenty-three Gettysburg Times carriers, accompanied by two members of the circulation department of the newspaper, left this morning by bus for the New York World's Fair.

The youths were ones who scored highest in the annual spring "new circulation" contest held by the newspaper for its carriers. The trip involves an overnight stay, with the youths returning here by 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Leaving here at 6 this morning the carriers were scheduled to be in New York City at 10:30 at the Taft Hotel, 50th and 7th Ave., which will be their headquarters. They were to leave the hotel at 11:30 this morning to travel by subway to the Fair, where they will remain until 8 tonight. The group will then return to the hotel and from 9 to 10 o'clock tonight will make a tour of the Times Square area of New York.

RETURN SATURDAY

Saturday morning following breakfast they will go again to the World's Fair and remain there until 5 o'clock and then start the trip home, stopping enroute for supper.

The trip will include all expenses for traveling to and from New York, the stay at the hotel, meals and admission to the fairgrounds. The youths will provide their own funds for any attractions for which admission is required at the fair.

Circulation Manager Donald F. Miller, Gettysburg R. 3, and McKnight Guide, Gettysburg R. 6, are the adults accompanying the group. The carriers are Stanley

CONTEST FOR GOP CHAIRMAN

A contest developed today for the county chairmanship of the GOP committee, to be filled at a convention meeting next month. In a letter to committee members this week, Martin H. Vandye of Butler Twp., announced his availability for the office.

He says in the letter that he is not now "nor will I be committed to any faction of the party." If elected, he promises full committee participation in party decisions and pledges an executive committee that will represent a "cross section of all views" in the party. Policy decisions, he says, would be made by the executive group.

Vandye is a Butler Twp. committeeman and resides near Vandye's corner off the Biglerville Rd. He claims a Republican family heritage going back to the days of Lincoln. He is a Gettysburg High School graduate and attended business college.

Vandye is the second announced candidate. Earlier Clerk of Courts Clark Spence entered the field. The convention is set for June 11.

OFFICE BUILDING SOLD

The Bankers' and Telephone Employees' Insurance Company has sold its former office building at 238 Baltimore St. to Attorney and Mrs. Oscar F. Spicer, R. 4. Immediate possession is being given. The sale was made by William A. Bigham, local realtor.

CAMPOREE FOR 200 SCOUTS TO OPEN TONIGHT

More than 200 Boy Scouts from throughout the Black Walnut Boy Scout District are scheduled to move into camp this evening for the annual Spring Camporee of the district organization, which will close Sunday afternoon.

Located on a farm near Biglerville along the Table Rock Rd., the encampment this evening will include mostly registration of the arriving units and erection of tents and gateways by the various units. The only scheduled activity other than the preparations of the encampment is a meeting of the Scout leaders late this evening.

On Saturday a full day of activities is scheduled. From 8:30 to 9:20 Saturday morning Stanley Frock will be in charge of knot instruction; from 9:20 to 10:15, Post 79 will be in charge of first aid instruction; from 10:20 to 11:30 Patrick H. Roth will instruct in trees, woods lore and plants. Donald Horst will be in charge of instruction in insects from 1:30 to 2:15 in the afternoon. Paul Harvey will have instruction in measuring from 2:30 to 3 and Post 84 of Littlestown will instruct in firebuilding from 3:15 to 4 o'clock.

Cub Scouts will visit the encampment Saturday afternoon and evening, taking part not only in a special Cub Scout program during the afternoon and a picnic supper, but also joining the Scouts for the campfire program Saturday night.

Two fishing contests are scheduled, one for the Cubs on Saturday afternoon with prizes to be awarded for the best catches. The Scouts will have their fishing contest on Sunday.

Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Henry W. Starnat will conduct the Protestant church services at the camp while Catholic Scouts attend Mass at Gettysburg.

CHURCHWOMEN HOLD MEETING

"One Gift" was the theme of devotions and the program at the quarterly general meeting of St. James Lutheran Churchwomen Thursday evening. The program, planned by Mrs. C. E. Schildknecht, vice president, explained how the money contributed by the women at the monthly circle meetings and the quarterly general sessions is used by the Lutheran Church in America.

Members of the Hannah Circle, of which Mrs. Wilbur M. Allison is leader, conducted the devotional period and participated in the program. Mrs. Sara Hamsher introduced the topic and offered prayer, and Mrs. Allison directed the Bible readings in which the entire group took part. Mrs. Luther I. Sachs was the pianist.

Miss Margaret Sanders, faith and life chairman, told of the various LCA boards and named the LCW board representatives who were portrayed by the local women who told the world of

County Board Votes 3 To 2 For Six-District Plan For Schools; Appeal Expected

The Adams County Board of School Directors at a special meeting Thursday evening voted three-to-two in favor of a six-district county school reorganization plan.

But even before the plan was adopted, the county board was placed on notice that at least one school board will take an appeal to the state which will leave the final determination of the county plan in the hands of the state board of education.

If the six-district plan is approved finally at Harrisburg, it will cut the number of school districts in Adams County from 22 to six and will reduce the number of school directors from about 125 to 54, nine in each district.

Effective date of the new school plan probably will be July 1, 1966, although advance establishment could be secured one year earlier if all districts involved should request it. Two districts already have indicated they favor a 1966 starting date.

ARMY ASSIGNS COL. EDDY TO FORT JACKSON

Two staff changes have been announced by the Army ROTC department at Gettysburg College. Lt. Col. John H. Eddy, professor and head of the department of military science has been reassigned to the U.S. Army Training Center for Infantry at Fort Jackson, S.C., effective in August.

SFC D. C. Ridenour will report on July 16 to Fort Bragg, N.C. Col. Eddy is completing a four-year assignment at Gettysburg College. He came here in August, 1960, after serving with the U. S. Army Mission in Caracas, Venezuela.

A native of Roanoke Va., and graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1939, Col. Eddy served in the European Theater during World War II and in the fighting in Korea, 1952-53. He later attended the U. S. Army Command and Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

SFC Ridenour came to Gettysburg College two years ago from Fort Knox, Ky. He has been assigned to the Military Assistance Advisory Group, Vietnam. Enroute he will receive six weeks of special forces training at Fort Bragg, N.C., and Vietnamese language training at the Defense Language Institute in Monterey, Calif.

Dr. Ralph W. Cordier, dean of academic affairs, Indiana State College, Indiana, Pa., will be the commencement speaker at exercises in Fairfield Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when 30 Seniors will be graduated.

Dr. Cordier has been a high school and college teacher and joined the Indiana State faculty in 1946 as chairman of the de-

WILL SPEAK AT FAIRFIELD GRADUATION

The only director to speak before the vote was taken was Mr. McMinnery who said he believes small school districts cannot continue much longer and that the next decade would prove the wisdom of a single unit choice.

The resolution to adopt a six-district plan was offered by Vice President Haar who said he acted in view of the wishes of most school directors of the county and because of his own views on the matter. His motion was seconded by Mr. Hartzell of Fairfield.

The only director to speak before the vote was taken was Mr. McMinnery who said he believes small school districts cannot continue much longer and that the next decade would prove the wisdom of a single unit choice.

HOLD PLAN 30 DAYS

The county plan will remain in the county office for 30 days before being forwarded to Harrisburg. In that time appeals may be filed, which will be attached to the plan and sent to Harrisburg with it.

The first move now is for the secretary of the county board to give each school district in the county formal notice of the county board's action and inform it to which district it has been assigned. The formal appeals are

Hunterstown Man Is Injured In Fall

A 64-year-old construction worker was injured Thursday morning when he fell while working in a 20-foot pit at the Penn Township sewer plant construction site, Hanover.

The workman, Aral Andrews, Hunterstown, was conveyed in the Penn Township ambulance to the Hanover General Hospital where he was treated for abrasions of the right arm and released.

Township police said Andrews was working alone in the pit about 9 o'clock. Moments later he was found unconscious by fellow workers, employees of D. S. Warfel Associates.

Andrew told police he did not know what happened.

BLOOD DONORS

Blood donors at Warner Hospital from May 14-20 were: Mrs. Sandra Pyles, Biglerville; Henry Ruth and Robert McLaughlin, Gettysburg; Richard Wolford, Abbotstown; Don Clement, Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

OBITUARY NOTICE

JONES, Robert L., 67, suddenly May 20 at Atlantic City, N. J. Beloved husband of Eliza (Dove) Jones, of Gettysburg. Funeral Sunday, May 24, at 2 p.m. from Weems Creek Baptist Church, Annapolis, Md.

RENAME LENTZ TO GIRL SCOUTS

The first council-wide event of the Penn Laurel Girl Scout Council will be held at the York Fairgrounds next April 23, 24, 25, according to an announcement by Mrs. Robert Hoche, York, chairman, at a meeting Wednesday of the board of directors in York. William Lentz, Gettysburg, was re-elected a member-at-large.

Girl Scout membership increased by 1,300 in 1963 and the training program for adults was expanded to provide seven extra hours of formal training. The board was told. The Senior Scout program was strengthened by initiating planning boards in strategic geographic areas and emphasis was placed on potential vocations for girls in the 15-17 year age group. The council retained 5,000 adults and reorganized 1,000 troops in 1963.

The council reported on the purchase of 100 acres of land from the Bethlehem-Cornwall Corp., Lebanon, for a camp site to bring to five the number of camp sites in the six-county area of the council.

The campership fund will be increased through broader appeals to organizations in the communities and program service will be studied to extend the Girl Scout program into areas not now served by the Scout plan. A recruitment and referral plan will be initiated to attract qualified volunteers for stronger leadership.

Graduates Will Be Given Bibles

The session of the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church will present Bibles to the following members of the church graduating from high school this year: Gettysburg High School: John Biggins, Nancy Bow, Tom Buleit, Ronald Deitch, Barbara Ditchburn, Kay Elledge, Merial Hartman, Gene Schultz, Robert Stokes, Edna Tressler, Nancy Voss, and Mary Bruce Wolff. Biglerville High School: Holly Asquith and Don Stauffer. St. Catherine's School, Richmond, Va., Lindgren Johnson. Following the service, the graduates will be guests at the coffee hour in Fellowship Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swope as hosts.

The Youth and Adult choirs will combine to sing the anthem: "I Love Thee, My Lord," by Ignall and the Adult Choir will present "Sing Praise to God," by Haydn. Rev. Robert H. MacAdill will speak on: "The Honor of a Certain Aim."

Services during May are being broadcast over station WGCT.

Swimmer Earns Red Cross Award

Miss Amy Riley, 18, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Riley, 306 N. Stratton St., Thursday night was awarded her Red Cross swimming instructor certificate at Harrisburg at the completion of a 10-week course in which she was the youngest of a class of 11.

Paul G. Grubb taught the course for the American Red Cross. Miss Riley began her swimming with the local Red Cross at the age of six, attended the Water Safety Services Clinics held by the American Red Cross at Indianopolis for three years. She also holds certificates in pool sanitation and filtration and the handling of small craft.

This summer she will be a staff member of Camp Pine Grove. She will graduate May 31 from Delone where she was a member of the band for four years.

The Episcopal Churchwomen held a covered dish supper at the home of Mrs. Francis Null, Taneytown, Md., Tuesday evening. Mrs. W. W. Deitz, president, presided at a brief business meeting when the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Stewart Laidlow; vice president, Mrs. Joan Crook; secretary, Mrs. Russell Morgan; treasurer, Mrs. John Ker-shaw; United Thank offering custodian, Mrs. Taylor Grossman. The group voted to purchase 50 large hymnals for the use of the congregation. This was the last meeting for Mrs. Arnold Paparazo, who is moving with her family to Texas, and Mrs. Edmund Crandall, whose family is going to Japan. They were presented with plates bearing a picture of the church on the front and on the reverse side a personal appreciation of their work in the local church. These plates are made by Mrs. George Montgomery, a former member, now living in Florida. Fifteen members attended. The next meeting will be held in the parish house June 16.

County Board

expected to follow receipt of those notices.

A subsequent resolution adopted Thursday evening gave assurance from the county board that "plans for programs of special education and area technical school areas will not be altered" because of the new county plan.

HEAR THREE LETTERS

As Thursday's meeting opened, President Asquith had the board secretary, Mr. McIlhenry, read three letters from school boards stating or restating their support of a six-district plan. The letters were from the Franklin Twp., Gettysburg Area Merged and Upper Adams school boards.

Discussion of the county plan was opened by County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson who said the county board has given the question "most careful consideration" for many months. He said that, as a county native, a parent and a taxpayer, he is interested in "economy and quality of education" in this county. He distributed sheets showing financial data on county school districts and then read 17 tests he suggested be applied to any county plan in this county.

He described Thursday's decision as possibly the "most far reaching" ever made by a county board in this county since the first was established a quarter century ago. "The County School Board should be intent upon the goal of conducting the best possible program for all students in all the schools of Adams County," he said.

HEAR BOTH SIDES

In the discussion from the floor, Richard O. Riggs, East Berlin, president, said he had favored a single unit for a number of years and Oyler from Franklin said a decision for a single unit would be against the wishes of the people and the best interests of the children.

Amos D. Meyers said he believes a "great many advantages" are offered by the single county unit.

Fred H. Hartlaub, Mt. Pleasant Twp. director who will become a member of the county board in six weeks, spoke in favor of the single unit and said most directors in the Littlestown jointure now favor that plan. He will replace Mr. Hartzell of Fairfield July 1 on the county board.

BOARD'S DECISION

Most of the familiar arguments for and against each plan were aired during the two hours of discussion that ended about 10 o'clock. President Asquith said "the paper merits of size (in a school district) are usually more apparent than realities" and spoke of his fears that bigness in a school district would not bring better supervision or some other advantages claimed for it. He reminded the spectators that while the county board was required to consult them on the county plan they were not bound to follow their recommendations. "The responsibility is solely that of the county board," he said.

MEET AGAIN MONDAY

The plan adopted by the county board Thursday evening is essentially that adopted more than a decade ago with the exception that Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown were switched from Littlestown to New Oxford.

The six districts set up in Thursday's plan will be Bernumian Springs, Fairfield, Gettysburg, Littlestown, New Oxford and Upper Adams. Upper Adams and New Oxford which are already mergers will not be greatly affected.

Before the vote on the county plan, Mr. Wildasin said his board preferred to be assigned to New Oxford and moved that the county board place them there. There was no second to his motion and it was lost. The assignment of the two districts to New Oxford came after the decision on the six-district plan.

The County Board will meet again next Monday evening for its regular May meeting.

Young Boy Is Hit By Auto Thursday

The two-year-old son of Mrs. Ruth Watson, 5 S. Franklin St., was struck by an auto about 6 o'clock Thursday night on S. Franklin St.

According to the borough police report, the driver stopped after hitting the child, spoke to the youngster's sister to ask whether the little boy was hurt, then drove on without leaving name and address. The car was described as light colored and the driver was the only occupant. According to the report, the child was removed by his mother to the Warner Hospital for treatment of a "bad bump on the head."

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sgt. Alvin York, America's leading hero of World War I, re-entered a hospital today for the ninth time in less than two years, but a physician said the old soldier was "not on the seriously ill list at the present time."

Dry. And the well at the house had a good supply of soft water and now there's practically no water there. They put in a new driveway for him onto a township road and that cut off another acre of his farm, in addition to the land he lost for the new highway. In addition there's a plot of about 28 acres cut off from the rest that he now has no right of way to.

"He can't keep up his dairy herd as big as it is now. What he's got left may support half of the herd he has, unless he buys feed, and that's not profitable at all. And the right of way is about 11 feet from the corner of his house and all up-grade and the big trucks have to stop and start again and it jars the whole area. Traffic coming from New Oxford turns into Route 15, when it makes the turn at night the car lights glare in the bedroom of the Eckert house, which is not very pleasant."

Trial of the case continued this afternoon.

Two Attractive Brochures Publicize Local Points Of Interest To New Visitors

Thousands of tourists will find their destinations more easily this summer as the result of two travel brochures being distributed through the Gettysburg Travel Council and to information centers throughout the East.

Newest of the vacation guides is a free map of the Gettysburg-Harrisburg-Hanover area designating all the small towns and crossroads and listing points of interest and accommodations. The Times and News Publishing Company printed 255,000 of the four-color multi-fold brochures for the council.

Color reproductions of local scenes describe the local attractions and include the Hall of Presidents, the Jennie Wade House, the Travel Council office, National Wax Museum, Fort Defiance, the Lincoln Room, Lee's Headquarters and Fantasyland.

4-COLOR PHOTOS

The inside section is a blow-up map of Gettysburg and the battlefield with four-color scenes of the field and apple blossoms. The National Park is shaded in green to designate its borders.

Another 32-page tourist and information guide has been printed by the company in two colors for more concentrated study by the tourist. Approximately 100,000 copies have been printed with a resume of "The Four Days At Gettysburg, 1863," and providing a close study of the attractions of the area, including recreation, sight-seeing the college and the seminary and others.

Another example of quality printing by The Times and News Publishing Company is the May issue of "Mantle," published by Mt. St. Mary's College. It is a 48-page edition on glossy stock with full-color cover reproduction of "Pieta," the huge sculpture in the Vatican.

"LOVE IS WAITING"

There my true love is waiting... waiting with open arms... soon I will hold her tenderly... soon I will share her charms... there where the clover blossoms... and wild flowers dot the way... my true love is waiting... amid nature's bouquet... there nestled in green pastures... as a humble home... my own true love is waiting... beneath its portal dome... there by a winding roadway... laughter and song ring out... my own true love is waiting... her smile is paramount... so I will hurry homeward... after each day is done... there my true love is waiting... she is the only one.

INEXPENSIVE GOODS

Manufacturing is very primitive, and finished products are quite cheap, he says. Good leather shoes — all handmade — sell for $5 American money, and nearly all fabrics are silk, offered at very low prices. Food is marketed in open stalls or from mobile carts that are pushed through the streets and operated in almost vacant space. Mobile restaurants, which American soldiers call "Howard Johnsons," are found every few feet in the business districts where vendors sell food to passers-by.

Wieder was crew chief of a C123 maintenance detail attached to Tan Son Nhut Base, Saigon Airport, largest support station in South Viet Nam. Several thousand Americans from all branches of service are stationed in and near the city, and members of the MAAG, advisory unit, have moved their families into the area.

Some of the poverty has been relieved, Michael says, by American construction at military bases where natives have found employment. The city is terribly crowded with families living in the shops they operate. Sanitation is very poor and the native diet consists of rice and fish products for the most part.

NATIVES HATED DIEM

The townspeople were greatly relieved when the Diem regime was overthrown, according to Michael, who said that "the natives resented Diem's disregard for religion to the point where they wanted only to be rid of him." He said there was little feeling for the way in which the Diems were disposed and recent execution of another Diem brother went by almost without comment. He said that the Catholic population resented Diem's treatment of the Buddhists with as much feeling as the Buddhists.

Wieder says that the taxi drivers in Saigon are more reckless than our New York cabbies, adding that "only strong-hearted persons should ride in one." A city ordinance prohibits the use of lights at night on motor vehicles, which merely blink their lights at oncoming traffic. The streets are well-lighted at night, and traffic is so heavy that it can move at less than 20 miles an hour at best because of hundreds of bicycles, motor-scooters, "cyclos" — a three-wheeled peddled rickshaw — and motorized vehicles similar to the cyclo.

AMERICAN THEATER BOMBED

Michael was on a duty trip to Singapore when the only American theater was bombed. "After that we had the movies only on the base," he said. The mid-city theater was set up as a means of getting the men away from base surroundings.

The military provided other recreation for the men, such as nightclubs in some of the better hotels, pool and cards, and, of course, the USO. Few Vietnamese speak English; a few speak French. But Michael learned a few words of Vietnamese and was able to enjoy limited conversation with the natives, whom he described as nonaggressive. "They look you over, and if the Americans show that they want to be friendly, they will respond," he said. He said that the younger people are learning to speak English and, through them, Americans are able to talk to the older generations.

Wieder was graduated in 1960 from Gettysburg High School, where he was drum major for three years. He enlisted in the Air Force in October, 1960, and was sent to Saigon a year ago. He plans to enter civil service.

Culligan To Buy Elgin Softener

H. D. Lower, Biglerville, local distributor of Culligan water conditioners, today announced that the Culligan firm will acquire the Elgin Softener Corp., Elgin, Ill., as soon as the agreement is approved by the stockholders. The Elgin firm is the major manufacturer of commercial water conditioning equipment and the Culligan company is the nation's largest domestic manufacturer. The merger will provide a strong combination of marketing, engineering and technical talents for Culligan distributors, Lower said.

3 STUDENTS WIN PRIZES

Nine students in three local elementary schools were presented today with prizes for outstanding work in a penmanship contest sponsored by the VFW Post.

Commander Charles R. Moser and Past Commander Robert B. Swisher visited the three schools and presented cash prizes to the winners in the contest from each school and certificates to the 10 top students in the contest in each school. First prize at each school was $5; second, $3, and third $1.

At Eisenhower School the winners were Dorothy Keller, first; Ricky Miller, second; Janet Knorr, third. At St. Francis Xavier, Dennis Shriner was first, Patricia Sanders, second, and Jeffrey McCleaf, third. The winners at Keefeauwer were Carol Newsham, first; Susan Blosser, second, and Jane Benner, third.

The Sixth Grade teachers in each school selected the 10 best in the penmanship contest. The penmanship committee of the VFW, Walter O. Powell, chairman, Swisher and Moser, then selected the three best from the 10.

In Laurel Festival

Miss Diane Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Shoemaker, 43 East Broadway, will represent Gettysburg at the 23rd annual Pennsylvania State Laurel Festival at Wellsboro on June 19, 20 and 21.

Miss Doyle, a Senior at Gettysburg Area Senior High School, was selected for beauty, poise, personality, charm and general appearance. She will compete with some 70 other Pennsylvania senior high school girls from communities throughout the state for the title of Pennsylvania State Laurel Queen for 1964.

The winner will receive a senatorial partial tuition scholarship valid at one of the state Universities and an engraved trophy.

Tapes Hi-Fi Music For Polaris Crews

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — Those who go down to the sea in ships these days — and under it in submarines — include Brahms, Puccini, Andre Kostelanetz, Tony Bennett and Margaret Whiting.

These, said G. W. Mendenhall, are popular requests on the 250,000 feet of stereo music he has taped as gifts for submarines of the Polaris fleet.

Mendenhall, senior administrator at Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., got the idea on learning that the Polaris sub Theodore Roosevelt had a high-fidelity tape system. Mendenhall recorded 30 hours of music for that sub. He's been at it ever since.

STOCKS 'RREGULAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit taking among several mineral stocks was a feature of an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Market averages were up slightly.

Occidental Petroleum, which was a big gainer Thursday as the most active stock, was delayed in opening. It fell 1/4 to 33 on initial blocks of 30,000 and 1,800 shares, then extended its loss to more than a point.

Most of the other issues involved in the current vogue for companies with actual or possible natural resource also encountered profit taking.

PAPARAZO TO GO TO TEXAS

Capt. Arnold L. Paparazo, assistant professor of air science at Gettysburg College for the past four years has been assigned to Perrin AFB, Texas.

He will complete his Gettysburg assignment in June and report on July 20 to Perrin AFB for further training in the F-102, a supersonic all-weather fighter-interceptor.

Prior to coming to Gettysburg in 1960, Capt. Paparazo was Deputy Flight Commander, 41st Fighter Interceptor Squadron on Guam.

A native of Pottsville, he was graduated from Pennsylvania State University in June 1953 and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve. He entered duty in September 1953 and received his wings in October 1954 after completing flight school in Florida and Texas. In 1957 he attended the Advanced Interceptor Flying School at Perrin AFB, and was subsequently assigned to duty on Guam.

HEAR TALK ON STEERS

Robert Hartley was the speaker Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Adams County 4-H Baby Beef Club. Outlining methods of feeding and handling steers he told the group that "the most important thing is to get out of the steer its full potential." He said, "The best steer sometimes does not win the prize because the person raising the steer does not handle it so it can achieve as well as it should."

Donald Bair gave a talk on judging of steers. The next meeting will be held June 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the farm of John Lott, Gettysburg R. 4.

MECO DISPUTE GOES TO COURT

HARRISBURG (AP) — Court hearings are scheduled in Dauphin and Berks counties Monday on whether permanent injunctions should be placed on mass picketing at two strike bound plants of Metropolitan Edison Co.

A panel of four Dauphin County judges here Thursday issued a preliminary injunction banning mass picketing, entrance blocking and threats of violence at the company against Local 563 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The York County Court this morning granted a temporary injunction restraining picketing at plants in York and Adams counties. A hearing was set for next Wednesday on whether the injunction against Local 1261 should become permanent. Hearings will be held Monday in Berks and Dauphin County Courts on the actions in those counties on permanent injunctions.

Meanwhile, Berks County Court issued a similar temporary injunction restraining interference with, nonstriking employees and pedestrians at the company's main plant outside Reading and other offices nearby. The action, limiting picketing to seven persons at a time, was brought against Local 803.

In its complaint filed in Harrisburg, the company said that up to 40 pickets have blocked entrances at the Middletown plant since its 124 union members walked off their jobs at Midnight last Monday.

Normal operations have been maintained at the power facility by supervisory personnel, including many brought in from other company installations.

The suit accused the union of using "coercion and threats" to halt supervisors and suppliers of material from going on the premises.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Garage Is Closed; Move To New Quarters: D. E. McCauslin, who has operated a Dodge and Plymouth agency and garage at the corner of North Stratton and York streets for the past three years, today closed his establishment preparatory to moving to his new location at 334-336 York street.

The new garage, which has been under construction since last August will open Monday morning and will have its official opening next Friday.

Today, Saturday and Sunday will be devoted to moving equipment from the present establishment to the new garage, taking inventory and preparing the new garage for its opening.

Gilberts Buy Fair Store In Biglerville: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gilbert, of Little, formerly of Gettysburg, have purchased the store on South Main street, Biglerville, owned by Denton Fair, and will take possession on May 30.

Mr. Gilbert was employed by the Armstrong Cork company, Lancaster, for the last five years and for the last two years also coached the Lancaster Catholic high school football teams.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert and their two children will move into an apartment in the store building being vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Fair who plan to move to California.

Clapper-Connelly: Vernon H. Clapper, 37 West Middle street, and Thalia Connelly, Carnegie, were married Sunday, May 15, at the Roaring Springs United Brethren Church. They returned Saturday from a wedding trip and will reside on West Middle street. Clapper is watch repairman at Gay's Jewelry shop here.

Among those from this area who were guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Herman tsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Delroy Keller, Ardenstville, and Reggie Dunkinson, Gettysburg.

Local Man's Brother Holds Portrait Show: Robert A. Hoke, 39-year-old artist for The Washington Star and younger brother of R. Swartz Hoke, Barlow street, had Mrs. Harry S. Truman as one of his guests at a one-man show of his portraits of President and Mrs. Truman and 40 other prominent members of Washington society last Thursday at Washington.

Guests, including Mrs. Truman, came to view the exhibition and then took the drawings home with them. A large portrait of the President completed the day before the show, was exhibited as a surprise feature of the display.

Hoke is a son of Mrs. Grace S. Hoke, Hanover, who was present for the tea held in connection with the exhibit and met Mrs. Truman. Hoke has been on the Star staff for 12 years. He resides in Arlington, Va., with his wife and two children.

Called To Germany By Mother's Illness: Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, 239 West Lincoln avenue, professor of German at Gettysburg College, left this morning for New York City, where he will sail this afternoon on the United States line "Marine Shark" for Hamburg, Germany.

Dr. Sundermeyer has been called to Germany by the serious illness of his mother. His parents live at Peine, near Hannover. He plans to return to New York July 1.

On July 4 Dr. Sundermeyer will go to Middlebury, Vt., for the opening of the summer school session at Middlebury

Today's Talk

FEAR OF THE WRONG THINGS
We are all possessed with fears of one sort or another. Not a single human being is free from them — not even "the bravest of the brave." And there was that soldier who once passed the Duke of Wellington on his way into battle on his horse. Noting that he was very pale, the duke remarked: "There goes a brave man. He recognizes his danger, and faces it."

These fears of ours were given to us as a protective measure. If we had no fears we would be apt to do many dangerous and tragic things. That which is the most destructive to us is the fear that takes hold of us — of the wrong things! Things that rarely, if ever, do happen.

Needless fears bring on worries and worries bring on ill health and help to destroy an efficient handling of each day's duties. Grave emergencies come to us all, and with them fears are often presented. But these fears are like sentinels, warning us to draw upon our courage and let down no bars. Fears can be conquered like anything else in life. It's the fear of these wrong fears that tears us to pieces and wrecks our will.

Laws rule the universe. They are all through nature. Man makes endless numbers of them — most of them quite foolish, and many of them dead letters upon the statute books. Man's "self-made laws," however, are among the most important of all laws. If he abides by them faithfully, and with a clear conscience, his fear for all laws is reduced to the minimum and he is enabled to go about his work from day to day in peace and with plenty of healthy hope to his credit.

I can't help but feel that God is on the side of the one with the fewest fears. Taking things as they come, for example, free of fear or worry, and doing one's best, leaving the result to take care of itself, is the most natural attitude to take. There is a protective shadow case about us when we "take no thought of the morrow," but fear not to face today, with courage and hope.

Just Folks

PURPOSEFUL DAY
Scraping and scrimping and saving, And a little bit better behaving. For people with too much of leisure To spend on their own selfish pleasure,

Are apt to be neck-deep in trouble. It's standing to cold, cruel weather That holds kin and comrades together. Who follow the gay, flowery courses Are apt to run into divorces

And pathways deep-mired with uncleanness And hatred and malice and meanness. It's planning and dreaming and toiling That keeps love and wedlock from spoiling. It's suffering and heartache and sorrow That bids us stand fast till tomorrow.

And therefore the difficult test times In the end may perhaps be the best times.

HUGH DOWNS

STARTS BUSY DAY AT 4:30

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hugh Downs, the head man of NBC's "Today Show," somehow manages to crowd an incredible number of activities into his schedule.

He arises at 4:30 a.m., for his daily chores—host, interviewer, salesman, introducer, light conversationist — on the two-hour morning show, and moves on to his job of game master and pitchman on the network's "Concentration."

He also finds time for flying lessons, French lessons, guitar practice, skin-diving, gun collecting, studying celestial navigation, carrying on a side-business that packages radio and television programs and commercial films, reading, and working for his favorite charity, the Mental Health Society.

IN SUMMER STOCK
Downs, 43, recently returned from a vacation trip to Europe and in August will turn actor briefly to play in a summer stock production of "Love and Kisses."

Downs admits that he does crowd an enormous amount of activity into each day, but insists that he accomplishes it through "my theory of procrastination."

"If there isn't time today, there is always tomorrow or the day after—so just put it off," he explains.

Although Downs does make some plans far ahead—he expects to sail across the Pacific next summer—such foresight is necessary because of his broadcasting work.

SHORT RANGE GOALS
"I don't seem to have any long-range goal in life, and I don't believe I ever have had," he says. "I sort of go along with things and see what happens."

The short-range goal, of course, is to safeguard my family's living standard. And, of course, it would be nice if that could be accomplished with less air time for me. That would give me more time to follow things in which I'm interested."

Downs, his attractive dark-haired wife Ruth and daughter Deirdre, 15, live in a mid-Manhattan apartment, a long walk away from Downs' studio. Son Hugh, 18, will soon be entering Ohio's Bowling Green College. Deirdre is interested in becoming an actress and will study dramatics this summer at Interlaken, Mich.

McSHERRYSTOWN — The regular meeting of the McSherrystown Knights of Columbus was opened with prayer by Grand Knight Norbert Felix. The reports of the recorder, financial secretary and treasurer were given. The grand knight thanked everyone for the Communion breakfast on Mother's Day, and reminded members of the first and second degree in York on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The nominating committee, composed of Richard Cashen, Robert Niederer and William Masemer, presented the following slate for the coming year: Grand knight, Norbert Felix; deputy grand knight, James Grot; chancellor, Ira Brown, Jr.; recorder, Jean B. Noel; treasurer, Ray Hemler; judge advocate, John Folmer; warden, Clyde Sterner; inside guards, William Hagerman and Walter Zimmer; outside guard, Burnell Leonard; trustee, Roger Sanders, and delegates to the convention, B. I. Noel and Francis Murren.

Richard Conrad, chairman, reminded members of the coming retreats at Mt. St. Mary's and to make reservations with him or Francis Tananis, Second St., closed with prayer by the Deputy Grand Knight B. I. Noel.

BILL FOR FIREMEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., has introduced a bill to exempt volunteer fire companies from the requirement of federal income taxes.

Scott said a recent Internal Revenue Service ruling that volunteer fire companies must pay taxes on all money collected, would be seriously threaten with extinction of many of Pennsylvania's fire companies.

Refuses Appeal To Back Transit Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George A. Goodling, R-Pa., says he has rejected an appeal from C. E. Bertrand, executive vice president of the Reading Railroad, to support the Johnson Administration's $500 million mass transit program.

The measure was approved by the House Rules Committee on Thursday and will probably be debated in the House early next month.

Goodling said mass transit for a relatively small number of communities where the greatest wealth is concerned.

LADY BIRD SEES POVERTY AREA OF KENTUCKY

By FRANCES LEWINE
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Lady Bird Johnson visited in eastern Kentucky with everyone from a struggling mountain farmer to youngsters in a one-room schoolhouse as she pleaded to help those who live "on the outskirts of poverty."

She was folksy, frankly political and staunchly antipoverty on a rugged, day-long tour in this section of Appalachia on Thursday.

Heading home today to rest, she said her "woman's look" at problems of this area had been a wonderful experience.

APPLAUDS STATE

Thousands got to see and applaud the President's wife. And she applauded Kentucky for the steps she saw being taken to fight poverty and illiteracy.

The First Lady waded in to answer Republican critics who chided the Johnsons about "deplorable poverty" they said they found among tenant families on her Alabama acres.

She gave her answer in a speech before an audience of 1,000 at a dinner of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in Lexington Thursday night.

Mrs. Johnson said she was glad some people were "suddenly worried" about her tenant farmers because "I've been worried about them for years. 'If there had been a poverty bill 30 years ago, those former cotton farmers would have been retrained to a new skill, rather than remaining on in an economy that time has passed by.'

JOB OPPORTUNITY PLAN

"The lasting answer to wiping out poverty in this country is not just charity," she said, "but a full-scale program to provide job opportunities for all underprivileged families and educational opportunity for their children."

Her speech, a plea for backing Johnson's war on poverty, was greeted with a standing ovation. It climaxed Mrs. Johnson's day, which closely paralleled a trip the late Eleanor Roosevelt made 26 years ago, when she was first lady.

Mrs. Johnson's biggest crowd gathered at the new Breathitt County Coliseum, a combination gymnasium for the high school and civic meeting place, which she dedicated, as Mrs. Roosevelt dedicated a WPA-built gym in 1938.

Earthquakes and tremors can occur almost anywhere on earth, according to the National Geographic Society.

Her speech, a plea for backing Johnson's war on poverty, was greeted with a standing ovation. It climaxed Mrs. Johnson's day, which closely paralleled a trip the late Eleanor Roosevelt made 26 years ago, when she was first lady.

Mrs. Johnson's biggest crowd gathered at the new Breathitt County Coliseum, a combination gymnasium for the high school and civic meeting place, which she dedicated, as Mrs. Roosevelt dedicated a WPA-built gym in 1938.

Biglerville Loses Last Track Meet To Scotland; Thompson Chosen Captain

Biglerville High School wound up its track season Thursday in losing an 81-46 decision to Scotland on the Cannors' field.

Two of Biglerville's five first places were won by Mike Thompson who captured the shot-put and discus.

Thompson was chosen as honorary captain for the year by his teammates. He was undefeated in dual competition in the shot-put and discus this season. He also finished second in the Blue Mountain Conference meet.

Scotland also had a double winner in Tony Ryan who sped home in front in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

NFL REJECTS WORLD SERIES

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football World Series is not just around the corner. In fact, we may have a man on the moon first.

The latest attempt to get the two leagues together was turned down flatly by the National Football League.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle wired an official of the National Broadcasting Co. that "the NFL has no interest in your publicized proposal."

NBC had offered to donate $500,000 to the Kennedy Memorial Library Fund for television rights to an all-star game between the NFL and the American Football League.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss wired his acceptance from the league meeting in Kansas City.

"Any time pro football wants to attain the high level of major league baseball the leagues have got to meet head-on," Foss said.

"I think it's a terrific idea."

In turning down the proposal, Rozelle said the league had made plans several weeks ago with the Kennedy family for participation in the Memorial Library Fund. He pointed out that the fund would share in receipts of an exhibition game between Philadelphia and Detroit at Philadelphia Aug. 23.

BIGLER ENDS SEASON WITH 10-6 VICTORY

Biglerville High School, playing its third game in as many days, pounded over six runs in the top of the seventh inning to defeat Fairfield 10-2 on the latter's field.

Thursday afternoon in its final game. The Cannors finished with an overall 5-5 record.

Going into the last frame Biglerville led 4-2 and iced the outcome with its big frame. Bob Bream tripled, Rod Guise was safe on a fielder's choice, Bob Garretson walked, Black singled, Jim Taylor was safe on an error, Del Crum singled, Ross Kennedy was safe on another fielder's choice and Don Heckman singled to account for the runs.

Fairfield scored a run in the second on a triple by Mike Wyatt and singles by Greg Wertz and Paul Slonaker. The Knights' other run in the sixth resulted when Barry Fitz tripled to score Wyatt who had reached base on an error.

KELSO TO MAKE HIS '64 DEBUT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mighty Kelso, Horse of the Year for the past four years, makes his 1964 debut Saturday in the $50,000 Los Angeles Handicap in the top thoroughbred race of the day.

Second only to Round Table in the all-time money-winning list with earnings of $1,581,702, Kelso will use his start in the seven-furlong Los Angeles at Hollywood Park as a tuneup for the $100,000 Californian two weeks later.

Slated to go to the post against the Golden Gelding from Mrs. Richard du Pont's Bohemia Stable is a strong field including Cyrano, Admiral's Voyage, Mr. Consistency and Mustard Plaster.

Kelso, making his first start since he was beaten by Mongo in the Washington, D.C. International at Laurel last November, will tote 130 pounds including his usual rider, Ismael (Milo) Valenzuela. He indicated his fitness with a sizzling 58-second workout for five furlongs Thursday.

Cyrano, assigned 124 pounds, and Admiral's Voyage, 121, also indicated their sharpness with half-mile works of 45 3-5 and 45 4-5, respectively.

Pro Wrestler Dies After Losing Match

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Tex Riley, a long-time veteran of professional wrestling, died in Memorial Hospital Thursday night shortly after losing a match.

Riley, about 50, and his partner, Joe Scarpa, had just lost a tag team match with the Von Brauner twins, Kurt and Karl, when Riley complained of chest pains.

Riley was listed variously as a native of Mule Shoe or Amarillo, Tex., but in recent years had lived in Nashville, Tenn. He began his wrestling career in 1937.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 300 professional, college and school-boy football players have tested a new triple suspension helmet and the test showed the helmet eliminated headaches and loss of equilibrium, says an osteopathic physician.

The new headgear was described by its designer, Dr. Charles J. Kwoka of Millersville, Pa., at an athletic seminar held Thursday in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Osteopathic Association convention.

AFL ACCEPTS NBC OFFER ON ALL-STAR TILT

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Development of an expansion policy today is the No. 1 task on the American Football League agenda, made more crowded by a proposed all-star game rejected by the National Football League.

Dave Dixon of New Orleans, using warm weather and January television exposure as his selling points, will propose a three-game AFL title playoff. The second game—and third if needed—would be in New Orleans.

Dixon's proposal had been scheduled for Thursday, before the National Broadcasting Co. made its offer to donate $500,000 to the Kennedy Memorial Library Fund for rights to an AFL-NFL all-star game.

AN UNFINISHED ACTION

Joe Foss, AFL commissioner, called a special meeting before the regular session. The AFL owners unanimously approved the NBC offer.

No target date for expansion is expected to come out of the AFL meeting which ends tonight, but Foss said the owners will establish a policy and provide budget information and application blanks to prospective owners.

The AFL owners want time to consolidate their positions under the $36 million five-year NBC contract which starts in 1965 before considering new members. If and when the eight-club league decides to expand, it's likely New Orleans would be one of the first clubs considered.

MAKES WILLIE GIANT CAPTAIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Willie Mays, as far as I'm concerned, is managerial material," said San Francisco Giants manager Alvin Dark in naming the star center fielder as the club's field captain.

Dark wouldn't expand his comment on managerial potential but the possibility exists that the 3-year-old Mays might eventually become the first Negro to manage in the major leagues.</

Southern Baptists Reject Plan To Integrate Church

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Southern Baptists have rejected an endorsement of church integration and left the issue up to member churches. "It is our conviction that the final solution to these problems must come from the local level," said a policy statement adopted Thursday by messengers (delegates) to the Southern Baptist Convention, largest Protestant body in the United States.

AWAIT APPROVAL

In contrast, the American (Northern) Baptist Convention was expected to approve a resolution today calling for participation in demonstrations for civil rights and support of the civil rights bill pending in the Senate.

The conventions, holding separate meetings, both planned to take up proposals opposing any change in the U.S. Constitution because of the school prayer controversy.

Both groups, together with five other Baptist denominations, join in a program celebrating their 150th anniversary today.

A block of Deep South ministers led the fight against Southern convention endorsement of churches that open their doors to Negroes, as recommended by the convention's Christian Life Commission.

The commission also proposed a pledge "to support the laws designed to guarantee the legal rights of Negroes." It would have called on Southern Baptists to "give themselves to the decisive defeat of racism."

Attacking this as possible endorsement of the civil rights bill, the Rev. James Middleton of Shreveport, La., won adoption of a substitute policy statement.

His statement said Southern Baptists "fully recognize the dignity of every human being," and added: "We would urge every church to earnestly pray and work that peaceful Christian solutions may be found in all the racial relationships facing the world today."

The convention cannot bind its actions on member churches; it can only recommend.

SEEK JOHNSON "MAGIC TOUCH" IN RIGHTS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bipartisan proponents of the civil rights bill said today they are counting on President Johnson to supply the final push for passage.

"He's the 'can do' man," assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey told a reporter. "He knows how to get things done."

So, Humphrey said, when the drive for cloture to still the Southern filibuster is made early next month, the President will be called on to help sway undecided senators.

A Republican civil rights supporter, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, agreed with Humphrey, the bill's floor manager.

"I've told the White House that we've done all that statesmanship can do," Aiken, a twinkle in his eye, said in a separate interview. "We need about three or four more votes and it's up to the White House to provide them."

Southern opponents of the civil rights measure said the Senate leadership already is applying pressure.

Before the Senate met for its 62nd session on civil rights, Republicans scheduled another conference to consider the package of amendments prepared by GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic civil rights advocates in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Dirksen said he hopes the Republicans can "button up" the bill at the session, and he scheduled a later huddle with Humphrey, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and other rights strategists.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping at conclusions:

Dogs eat better and live longer than they did a generation ago, but they have less fun out of life—just like many people.

They have the same problem, too—boredom.

The quickest way to cure a human being of boredom is to give him an ailment of some kind, even if it is only a stomach ache. The quickest way to cure a dog of boredom is to put a single flea on him. It may keep him busy for days.

In literature, the businessman is often portrayed as a cliché-ridden near illiterate. In actual fact the average successful industrial executive can use language more effectively than the average college professor.

POCKET INSPECTOR

The real reason a wife likes to send her husband's clothes to the cleaner isn't to make him look neater. It's because this gives her a good excuse to go through his pockets.

One of the reasons we look forward to going to heaven is that no one has to ride on subways there.

Most pickpockets are skinny. Confidence men, on the other hand, often tend to be overweight—perhaps because most people unconsciously tend to trust fat men.

When a warden picks a convict to work around his home, he usually chooses one under sentence for murder. Why? Murderers are usually more trustworthy. They rarely steal.

On this date: In 1819, the first steamship to cross the Atlantic, the "Savannah," left the Georgia port for which she was named on a voyage to Liverpool, England.

In 1856, tension heightened between pro and anti-slavery forces when South Carolina Congressman Preston Brooks attacked Sen. Charles Sumner with a heavy cane at his desk in the Senate.

In 1918, German planes attacked Paris.

In 1939, Germany and Italy signed a treaty of military alliance.

In 1945, British meat rations and soap allowances were reduced.

Ten years ago—French government leaders admitted that without greater aid from other nations they would have to give up the defense of the Red River delta in Indochina.

Five years ago—United Nations sources reported Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld was opposed to the establishment of a U.N. garrison in West Berlin.

One year ago—President Francois Duvalier of Haiti was inaugurated to a second term to which he declared himself elected in 1961.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenhart spent three days recently at the World's Fair in New York.

The Abbottstown Fire Company will hold a chicken barbecue dinner on Memorial Day, starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Jerry Lillich is sending a farewell with his father, Raymond Lillich, after spending several months in Korea.

James B. Gross, Robert Theret, George Wehler, Vincent Breighner, Harry Crawford and Charles Chubb attended the International Lions convention in Harrisburg. Theret entered his antique car in the parade.

Otis Livingston has been elected vice president of St. John's Lutheran Church Council to succeed the late Wilmer E. Gross.

Linda Dietz and Michael Wildasin received certificates of honorable mention from the American Legion for outstanding scholarship and achievement.

The Vacation Bible School will be held at St. John's Lutheran Church the weeks of June 15 and June 22 for pupils in Third and Sixth grades. Pre-school age classes will meet at Emmanuel Reformed Church.

Johnny Stambaugh was guest of honor recently at a birthday party at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ernst, Hanover. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stambaugh and son, Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stambaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stambaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berkheimer.

WELL KNOWN RABBI DIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dr. Philip David Bookstaber, rabbi of the Reform Temple Ohav Shalom 38 years before his retirement in 1962, died at Harrisburg Hospital Wednesday after a long illness. He was 72.

Dr. Bookstaber once served as chaplain of the State Senate and awarded the Commonwealth Medal by former Gov. George M. Leader.

In 1954, Dr. Bookstaber was presented the Silver Buffalo Award by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, for service to that organization. He founded one of the first Eagle Scout troops in the country in Cincinnati.

He was author of several books and a member of the national boards of B'nai B'rith, Zionist Union and National Council of Christians and Jews.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at Temple Ohav Shalom with burial in Mount Moriah Cemetery.

Dr. Bookstaber received an honorary Doctor of Literature degree from Gettysburg College, the only rabbi ever to receive the honor. He was wellknown in the Gettysburg area and was a chaplain of the Air Force training unit stationed at the college during World War II.

Wreath To Bob In Ocean Saturday At Squalus Grave

EDITOR'S NOTE — Twenty-five years ago the submarine Squalus sank in the Atlantic off Portsmouth, N.H. The following story by a reporter who covered the events recaptures the tragedy and drama of the sinking, the rescue from the sea bottom of 3 men and the eventual raising of the craft which was to play a fighting role in World War II.

By JAMES CALOGERO
PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—A small floral wreath will bob in the Atlantic 15 miles off Portsmouth on Saturday where a sea drama of life and death held a nation's attention exactly 25 years ago.

The submarine Squalus sank in 240 feet of water off the Isle of Shoals on May 23, 1939, with 57 Navy men and two civilians aboard.

GRANT RESCUE FEAT

It was to be many hours before a waiting nation would learn that 33 men were alive in two separate compartments of the 310-foot submarine.

And for two tense-filled days all attention focused on the spot in the Atlantic until 33 men who survived the disaster were brought to the surface in one of the great rescue feats of the sea.

Even the submarine itself eventually was brought to the surface in an historic salvage operation in what 25 years ago was the deepest water in which Navy divers ever operated.

THRESHER PASSED SITE

Twenty-four years later — on April 10, 1963—the nuclear submarine Thresher passed the same spot en route to her own untimely death with 129 men, 220 miles at sea in more than 8,000 feet of water—also during a test dive.

Thresher never was recovered — and because of the extreme depth may never be.

The Squalus was raised, refitted and went off to World War II as the Sailfish. She acquitted herself well, torpedoing 45,029 tons of Japanese shipping in its Pacific patrols.

TO TOSS WREATH

The wreath marking the 25th anniversary of the Squalus' sinking will be tossed to the sea by a man who survived the sinking and later returned to her when she was rechristened Sailfish.

He is Gerald McLees of Portsmouth, now a civilian employee at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard and former electrician's mate on the Squalus. The anniversary tribute was arranged by the Squalus Memorial Chapter of the Submarine Veterans of World War II.

McLees relived the disaster for The Associated Press on the silver anniversary.

"We had left Portsmouth on Monday and anchored 15 miles out. On the next morning, May 23, I was in the three-foot crawl space of the forward battery room, taking cell readings.

STARTED FLOODING

"Allen Bryson was in the hatchway just above me with his head on so we could keep in touch with all other compartments—the normal practice on a submarine.

"We started the dive and had gone down about 50 feet in about 40 seconds when Bryson shouted to me 'The engine rooms flooding!' It was 8:40 in the morning.

"I jumped up out of the battery section and headed for the forward torpedo room right behind Bryson. The submarine was going down stern first so we had to fight our way uphill. "There was no big bang when we hit the bottom. The Squalus just slid backwards and we settled easily on the bottom."

LOSING BATTLE

McLees continued: "We could hear the high-pressure air system trying to blow out the water ballast and enable us to surface. It was a losing battle.

"There were about a half-dozen people in the forward torpedo room when I got there. Others followed me. The rest of us who lived through it were in the control room.

"We in the forward section didn't know that 26 of our shipmates were dead in the after section. We didn't hear about it until we reached the surface a couple of days later."

A CRUEL DUTY

In another part of the ship, the disaster was to hand Lloyd

B. Maness a cruel duty. He was nearest the hatch which separated the flooding sections from the dry area. If he didn't shut that heavy metal door everybody on board might perish.

Maness waited until the last possible moment, permitting the passage of a few men soaked by the incoming sea water. Then, as water poured through the hatchway—and with not another second to spare—he shut the door on the fate of those men aft.

After the rescue of the survivors was completed, Maness said: "At such a time there is no time for sentiment. We are trained to act rigidly, so I gave no consideration to the fate of my shipmates.

"It was not until the first impulsive action was over that I began to feel the awfulness of the men's situation in the after section.

NO PANIC

"Particularly, I thought of Sherman Shirley, my chum. I was to be best man at his wedding the next Sunday."

Maness was one of four men from the Squalus to serve on her again when she was the Sailfish. Later, he transferred to another warship and was killed in World War II action.

Lt. Oliver F. Naquin, the Squalus commander, looking back to the tragic day in an interview at his Arlington, Va., home, said: "There was no outcry. Nobody shouted 'Oh, my God!' or anything like that. Only one man mentioned the people aft, and I shut that off real fast.

"If one or two men had panicked, the whole thing might have gone up in smoke."

QUICK RESCUE ACTION

Squalus rescue operations were put under way from the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard within minutes after she failed to report by radio.

The salvage ship Falcon, carrying a 10-ton diving bell, left New London, Conn., and anchored over the Squalus the next day.

Navy divers operated from the Falcon to prepare the Squalus hatches to accept the diving bell so no water would get into the sub as the men left in small groups to be raised to the surface.

EXCITEMENT, DANGER

The first diver reached the Squalus at 9:15 a.m., May 24. The diving bell was lowered only four hours later.

The bell made four trips to the submarine to rescue all the survivors, but the final trip was fraught with danger and excitement.

TRAPPED ON BOTTOM

The lines had frayed and become tangled and the last eight of the survivors and the diving bell's two operators were trapped for four hours between the Squalus on the bottom and the Falcon on the surface.

Next came the epic salvage. For two months Navy divers, working only short periods on the bottom because of the high pressure, tunneled away under the boat to make a passage for salvage chains.

Finally all was ready and air was blown into the pontoons which were to pull the sub from the bottom.

The first lift came on the morning of July 13. All appeared to be going well. Suddenly, a great burst of foam erupted, and one of the pontoons shot out of the water, falling back with a splash just as another pontoon surfaced.

TOOK ALL SUMMER

The sea bubbled and boiled. Churning foam spread in an ever widening circle.

In the midst of this confusion came a new eruption—the bow of the submarine shot out of the water then slowly settled to the bottom.

All the salvage work had been done in a few, brief moments. The salvagers had to do it all over again. It took all summer.

Finally on Sept. 15, the submarine was towed to a drydock in the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. The bodies were removed from the after compartments. A Naval Court of Inquiry

MISS BLATT IS IN LEAD AGAIN ON VOTE COUNT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Genevieve Blatt held a 55-vote lead today in the nip-and-tuck contest for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate as a complete recheck of the voting machines used in Philadelphia was underway.

The county board of elections ordered the opening of vote machines Thursday after checks in some wards showed some differences in the announced vote totals and the number of votes cast on the machines in the April 28 primary.

Before the recheck started Miss Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, and State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, the Democratic organization-backed candidate, were in a tie.

3 MORE DAYS

Elections board officials estimated it would take about three days to open the 3,300 voting machines and check them.

Meanwhile backers of Musmanno pressed for similar recounts in some other areas of the Commonwealth. Out of the first 15 of the city's 60 wards checked Thursday, Miss Blatt picked up an additional 123 votes and Musmanno got another 68—a net gain of 55 votes for Miss Blatt.

Those additional votes brought the unofficial total figures in Philadelphia to 67,993 for Miss Blatt and 128,236 for Musmanno. Some 544 absentee ballots in Philadelphia have been challenged.

51 COUNTIES CERTIFIED

The complete and official vote in 63 of the Commonwealth's 67 counties gave Miss Blatt 365,788 votes to 286,292 for Musmanno. This does not include Philadelphia, Lackawanna, Washington and Somerset counties.

The State Elections Bureau has certified the vote in 51 counties.

In Lackawanna, Miss Blatt polled 6,546 to 23,921 for Musmanno. She received 16,430 in Washington County to 19,996 for Musmanno. In Somerset County Miss Blatt polled 3,949 to 2,227 for Musmanno. There are 422 absentee ballots challenged in Lackawanna and 28 in Washington.

SUIT ON FILE
Miss Blatt's lawyers already have filed suit in Dauphin County Court challenging the election in the event Musmanno is declared the winner.

Francis R. Smith, chairman of the Democratic party in Philadelphia, called for a recheck of voting machines and ballot boxes throughout the Commonwealth. Smith is a Musmanno supporter.

Students Picket Bethlehem High

NEW BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—A group of about 25 persons, both Negro and white, picketed the New Bethlehem High School for about a half hour Thursday.

They were protesting the school boards rejection of a Negro student from Clarion State College as a student teacher. The pickets were orderly.

Joseph Kata, supervising principal, said the demonstrators apparently were Clarion State students.

PARISH WOMEN ARE HOSTS TO SCHOOL GRADS

The annual covered dish supper sponsored by the St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women, with the graduates of the parochial school and those of the parish who will graduate from Littlestown High School and Delone Catholic High School and their mothers as guests, was held Wednesday evening in the parish hall with approximately 100 in attendance.

Littlestown High School graduates are Joann Cookson, Sharon Long, Kay Weikert, David Herring and Leroy Weaver. Delone graduates are Susanne Weaver, Faith Redding, Joyce Hymiller, Marianne Rang, James Long, James Warehime, Laurence Alfio, Jerry Oyler, Charles Thomas, Mary Ellen Ozminski, Nancy Harner and Emily Smith.

Grace before the meal was offered by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, who also spoke briefly to the graduates and their mothers, following the meal. He was presented to the group by the parish council president, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, who congratulated the delegates on behalf of the council. The pastor challenged the graduates: "Do your very best—you have learned to read and to write and now you will have to read the book of life and write your own chronicle in this book, with the talents God has given you."

BUSINESS MEETING

A shrine on center stage honored Mary, Queen of the May. Favors for the mothers of graduates were petite madonnas with floral bases and for the graduates "Pieta" book marks with a prayer poem from the parish council. Miss William T. Gilling was in charge of shrine and favors.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Selby. Reports were heard from Mrs. Donald L. Beford and Miss Nancy Oaster. It was noted that the new curtain on the stage and the matching backdrops have been completed. This project was financed by the parish council. Financial reports on the recent food sale and banquets served by the unit, proved all were successful.

It was voted to provide a layette for the Catholic charities office in Gettysburg. Fifty dollars were voted to the seminary fund and $15 to the Madonna plan.

PLAN BREAKFAST

The second annual Communion breakfast of the council for all the women of the parish will be held on Sunday, June 7, following the 9:30 a.m. Mass, when the women will attend and receive Holy Communion in a body. Anyone who would like to attend the breakfast but is unable to be present for the 9:30 Mass may do so. Miss Anna C. Weaver and Mrs. George Ernst are co-chairmen of arrangements and reservations should be made with them by June 3.

Mrs. James G. Sneringer, Gettysburg, president of the Conewago Deanery Council and executive vice president of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, will be the guest speaker.

The council will provide flowers for Memorial Day for the graves of the late pastors, the Rev. John H. Weber and the Rev. William A. Boyle.

TEETER WILL BE SPEAKER ON MAY 29

Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, Gettysburg, will be the speaker for the annual Memorial Day service in Littlestown next Friday evening, May 29. The service will be held in Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

In addition to the address by Attorney Teeter, there will be selections by the Littlestown High School Band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner; prayers by local ministers; taps will be played and a volley will be sounded by the firing squad. John H. Riley, past commander of Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6854, Veterans of Foreign Wars will be master of ceremonies.

The service will be preceded by a parade, moving at 6:45 p.m. The parade will form at the Maple Avenue School and move west on E. Myrtle St. to N. Queen, through the square, pause at the veterans monument on S. Queen St., to Cemetery St. and then to Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

Edgar W. Wisotzky will be parade marshal. There will be massed colors by Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion and Mason and Dixon Memorial Post, VFW. The line-up will include the mounted marshals, motorcade of representatives of local organizations, veterans, ministerium and program participants, local high school bands and school children, Cubs, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

The line-up will halt at the veterans' monument for prayer. Wreaths will be placed by the veterans units. The parade will then proceed on to the cemetery.

Those wishing transportation in the motorcade should contact Edgar Wisotzky, Earl J. Weaver or Elmer W. M. Dutta. Ralph R. Ruggles will be commander of the guard. Howard O. Myers and George C. DeHoff are in charge of the public address system for the cemetery service.

General arrangements for the annual affair are in charge of the Allied Veterans Council consisting of representatives of the VFW and Legion Posts.

Health

Was it because he had piles, That he met defeat at Waterloo? Napoleon had been laid low Prior to that decisive battle, By a severe attack of piles. Piles never did have glamour, And public figures of that era Kept such afflictions a secret. King Louis XIV changed that. He called aloud for surgery, His rectal trouble was cured, And proctology got a promotion.

Bloomsburg Dean To Be LHS Graduation Speaker

JOHN A. HOCH

John A. Hoch, dean of instruction of Bloomsburg State College, will deliver the address at the annual commencement exercises in Littlestown High School on Monday, June 1, at 8:15 p.m. Diplomas of graduation will be presented to over 70 Seniors and awards will be announced.

Mr. Hoch was appointed Dean of Instruction at Bloomsburg State College in January, 1955, succeeding Thomas B. North who retired after a quarter century at the college. A native of Milton, Dean Hoch earned the bachelor's degree at Pennsylvania State University and the Master of Arts degree at Bucknell University. He is continuing his graduate studies at Penn State working toward the Doctor of Education degree.

Prior to coming to Bloomsburg in 1946, Dean Hoch was a teacher and athletic coach at Milton High School in Milton. During the ten years at Bloomsburg, before he was appointed Dean of Instruction, Hoch served as Dean of Men, Director of Public Relations, and Director of Athletics. He also served as football coach during the 1946 season and as assistant coach from 1947 to 1955.

For more than a decade, Dean Hoch has been invited to serve as a speaker for high school commencements and for special civic events for many communities in Pennsylvania. He holds membership in a number of professional organizations, and has been elected to membership in many honorary fraternities in the field of education.

ASK SCRANTON TO CAMPAIGN FOR TOP POST

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Republican State Council, a Negro wing of the GOP state committee, adopted a resolution today urging Gov. Scranton to become an active candidate for the party's presidential nomination.

The council met here prior to the opening session of the state committee's two-day meeting.

William Nunn, a leader of the council and assistant to Craig Truax, Republican state chairman, said:

"We can sell Scranton to the American Negro as a liberal and champion of human rights." The Council was one of several GOP groups meeting separately in conjunction with the party meeting.

Pennsylvania's 64 delegates to the national Republican Convention also were present to caucus and elect Scranton chairman of their delegation. They have endorsed him as a favorite son candidate, in efforts to keep the delegation united at the July 13 convention in San Francisco.

The Council, which has some 300 delegates here, also adopted a resolution on civil rights. It endorsed the position of Republican Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, and requested Republican members of Congress to use their power to invoke the cloture rule on civil rights debate.

The Council earlier heard a brief address from Truax. He assured the group that the state GOP is interested primarily in getting back the Negro vote and that a long-range program has been started in this direction.

2 CENTS PROFIT<

Estimate 2,745,000 Have Visited Kennedy's Grave

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the six months since his death, kings, queens, presidents and an estimated 2,745,000 persons have climbed up the gentle slope to John F. Kennedy's grave.

Now and then members of the Kennedy family slipped in among the tourists who stand at the low white picket fence that encloses the gravesite in Arlington National Cemetery.

Such a one was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy who was seen at his brother's grave one afternoon this week before he left on a trip to Europe.

PLAN MONUMENT

The family has not selected the final design for the monument to be erected. The President's widow still is receiving suggestions, a spokesman for her said today.

The eternal flame that marks the top of the level grave is expected to be incorporated into the permanent memorial.

For now, it burns above a temporary base covered with an artificial green grass carpet—bright in the sunshine of the spring day and soft in the blue floodlights of the night.

During the winter, fresh green boughs covered the base. Each evening guards found among the boughs a few mementos tossed there—rosaries, crosses, sometimes bracelets and even dolls, probably put there by children.

REMOVE INSIGNIA

But the boughs dried out too fast in the warm spring days. The military caps and insignia that had lain there since the day of burial, last Nov. 25, had rotted in the rain and snow. They, too, were removed.

The caps and insignia and every article of permanent nature, including the ribbons and cards on the floral tributes, are sent to the White House for keeping until the Kennedy Memorial Library is completed.

The enclosed area is covered with the blue-green grass that President Kennedy loved—the kind he had put in the White House garden by his office and at the Virginia country home he didn't have much time to enjoy.

WREATHS LINE FENCE

Each day, the base of the flame is covered with flowers, and wreaths line the fence.

Some 15 wreath-laying ceremonies are arranged each day. It has become a custom for visiting foreign dignitaries to pay their respects at the grave of the assassinated president.

A dramatic moment came last month when former President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela brought his wreath of white flowers.

Mrs. Kennedy had written him a letter just before his term ended in February, saying that during his life, President Kennedy had been concerned about the security of Betancourt, who had survived five assassination attempts.

It was a moving letter. And it was a moving moment when Betancourt stretched his trembling hands over the grave. There on one hand were the scars from the burns he had received during one of the attempts on his life.

NEGRO GROUP PROTESTING POLICE ACTION

HARRISBURG (AP)—A demonstration "like they never saw at this Capitol" was being staged today by a group of Negroes demanding a hearing on charges of alleged state police brutality during racial unrest in Chester last month.

A dozen demonstrators took sitting positions on the front steps of the State Capitol Thursday night, vowing to remain "until somebody in this Capitol gives us a public hearing."

State officials and members of the Chester Committee for Freedom Now reached an impasse after a day of intermittent discussions.

LACK JURISDICTION

The Human Relations Commission, following a telephone conference among 8 of its 10 members, declared it lacked jurisdiction to hold the type of hearing demanded by the demonstrators.

William Keisling, administrative assistant to Gov. Scranton, declared the Commonwealth was taking action in the form of an investigation by state police detectives. He said a report is expected next week.

Scranton himself was in Washington, D.C., Thursday for a round of previously scheduled appointments and he planned to attend a two-day meeting of the Republican State Committee and GOP convention delegation in Philadelphia today and Saturday.

EVERYBODY KNOWS

"Somebody here must have the authority to give us the hearing we want," said Stanley Branche, chairman of the CCFN. "Everybody from the governor on down knows the police

Arkansas Wants Rocky's Brother

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas' 12 delegates to the Republican National Convention were instructed Thursday to nominate Winthrop Rockefeller for president, but they weren't committed to vote for him.

The Arkansas Republican Central Committee approved the nomination of Rockefeller, brother of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, after Winthrop won a battle with GOP State Chairman William L. Spicer.

Spicer, a backer of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for the presidential nomination, charged that Rockefeller was trying to swing the delegates to his brother, one of Goldwater's chief rivals.

Winthrop is the Republican candidate for governor.

WRITER BACKS RIGHT OF PRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—Benjamin M. McKelway, a leading figure in American journalism for many years, says "freedom of the press means freedom from all regulations save those self-imposed by responsible self-restraint."

"The concept—in any form—of a referee or policeman, sitting in judgment upon the performance of the press and seeking to enforce that judgment is fundamentally opposed to the concept of press freedom," he said.

McKelway, editorial chairman of the Washington Star and former president of The Associated Press, delivered the sixth Pulitzer Memorial lecture Thursday at the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism.

He said that under the constitutional guarantee of a free press, newspapers are not licensed and are in a category different from that of television and radio.

beat those people." Branche contends that 200 Negro demonstrators were beaten in a racial incident at Chester April 24.

Col. E. Wilson Purdy, state police commissioner, said that the investigation "so far indicates that the complaints are unfounded."

FAMILY HEADS FOR ALEUTIANS TO MISS CROWD

By DALE NELSON

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A 96-foot vessel built in 1891 as a fireboat is heading for Alaska's Aleutian Islands with a deckload of baled hay, a hold full of livestock and a pioneering family that thinks Montana's getting too crowded.

Aboard the freighter Robert Eugene are 500 sheep, five horses, half a dozen pigs, one rooster, a dog named Smokey, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Choate and their three children.

"We're all looking forward to this," Choate said Thursday. "We will have our ranch and a chance to build it as big as we want it. We're all used to hard work."

"When you can hear your neighbor's rooster crow, it's time to move," said Choate, 52. Last May, Choate sold the seven sections of land on which he had ranches for 27 years near Miles City, Mont. He leased 265,000 acres from Uncle Sam on Unalaska Island, near the head of the Aleutian chain.

The rancher bought the Robert Eugene here. He put two decks in below the main deck, built pens for the stock and installed a ventilation system. Rugs were put down to keep the horses from slipping on the wooden decking, and the bulkheads were padded with mattresses.

Choate hired Jack Graham, a veteran of Alaskan waters, as skipper.

Mr. and Mrs. Choate and the children, Jim, 19, Susan, 20, and Ted, 10, will take turns as crew members on the 2,400-mile voyage. They figure it will take two weeks.

Worker Returns Overpay To State

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state treasury received $52 on Thursday from an anonymous state employee—past or present—who apparently was overpaid. Grace M. Sloan, state treasurer, said a note accompanying the money, said.

"Due to an error in time I was paid $52. I am returning same." The payment was made in cash and mailed from Fredericksburg, Pa.

Jet Explosions Jar East Coast

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—A low level supersonic boom startled residents of three New Jersey counties early today and touched off reports of a huge explosion in the central shore area of the state.

The sonic boom was produced by a plane participating in an Air Force training exercise, an Air Force spokesman said.

The exercise, called Top Rung 4, is a joint operation by the Strategic Air Command and the Air Defense Command, in which subsonic and supersonic booms, both at high and low altitudes, would occur, he said.

In scope, the exercise covered the northeastern United States and as far south as South Carolina and as far west as Chicago.

State Banks Reach New Asset Record

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Banking Department says assets in state banks reached a record high of $10,532,818,330 on April 15.

The figure presented an increase of $651,927,824 over the total recorded on March 18, 1963, the department reported Thursday.

There were 216 separate institutions this year compared with 224 a year ago. However, there were 485 branches this year compared to 447 in 1963.

PLACES FIRST IN CONTEST

An entry describing the many different and possible means utilized to publicize their home economics program won first place for the Home Economics Club of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, in a state-wide contest sponsored by the college club chapter of the Maryland Home Economics Association. The seven Maryland colleges offering degree programs in home economics participated in the contest.

The award-winning presentation was prepared by the members of St. Joseph's Home Ec Club under the direction of Miss Carol Leary, chairman. It included a report of contacts with various groups ranging from grade school students to adults, a commentary on the broad scope of their program, and a description of the various media, such as meals, lessons, bulletin boards, and notices, used to publicize the program.

Miss Merriam, faculty member of the Home Economics Department at Hood College and moderator of the college club chapter of the Maryland Home Economics Association, announced the results of the contest and the first place award to St. Joseph's club. Sister Madeleine, D. C., is chairman of the Home Economics Department and club adviser at the Emmitsburg school.

Mustang leads the stampede the big Ford started. This has been the hottest sales year in Ford Division history. We have a winner in the Super Torque Ford, a car so well built, so predictably tough, that competition-modified Fords took eleven of the last twelve NASCAR 500-mile races. Ford sales are up 17% this year. We have a luxury car that's taken off like a skyrocket: Thunderbird, with sales up 68%. Falcon is selling almost as many cars as Valiant and Chevy II combined. Fairlane continues to be a favorite in its own field. Now comes Mustang... turning the trend to Ford into a downright stampede. Mustang, by any measure of sales or excitement, is the most successful new car ever introduced in America—ever. When you see a stampede, it makes sense to find out what started it. That's something only your Ford Dealer can tell you about.

LBjTALKSTO 4,900 GRADS AT MICHIGAN

By FRANK CORMIER

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—President Johnson told 4,900 graduating students today that during their lives they "have the opportunity to move not only toward the rich society and the powerful society, but upward to the great society."

It will require, he said, the rebuilding of cities and countryside.

Johnson, in a philosophical speech prepared for commencement exercises at the University of Michigan, declared that the challenge of the next half century is whether the nation has the wisdom to use its wealth "to enrich and elevate our national life—and to advance the quality of American civilization."

"END TO POVERTY"

"The great society," he said, "rests on abundance and liberty for all. It demands an end to poverty and racial injustice but that is just the beginning."

Johnson pictured the great society as an affluent, cultured oasis, "where man can renew contact with nature" and where people "are more concerned with the quality of their goals than the quantity of their goods."

This would be a place, he said, of completely rebuilt cities, unspoiled countryside and bustling classrooms.

"In the next 40 years," he said, "we must rebuild the entire urban United States."

TO GET DEGREE

Johnson quoted the philosopher Aristotle that "men come together in cities in order to live, but they remain together in order to live the good life."

The President added: "It is harder and harder to live the good life in American cities."

Johnson planned to spend 2½ hours in Michigan, flying first from Washington to Detroit by jet, then changing to a helicopter for the hop to Ann Arbor to receive an honorary degree.

The President was due back in Washington in plenty of time for tonight's annual dinner of the White House Correspondents Association.

Missile Fragments Spread Over Farm

HONOLULU (AP)—A farmer complained Thursday that fragments from a Nike-Hercules missile were strewn over his farm Wednesday after the missile had to be blown up because of a malfunction.

The Hawaii Army National Guard has been conducting training firings of the weapon each Wednesday on Oahu Island.

"This is dangerous stuff," said Robert McCandless whose farm at Kahuku is a mile from the guard launch pad.

"Somebody might get killed," Jagger pieces of metal hit the farm after the missile exploded at 4,000 feet over the north end of the island. The McCandless children were kept busy picking up the pieces, all sharp edged and some the size of a garbage can cover.

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma's military government has canceled plans to rebuild the road to Mandalay with $31.5 million in U.S. aid.

The foreign office said since the agreement with the United States was signed in 1962, the 400-mile highway between Rangoon and central Burma's chief city had lost its priority status.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Reliable Vatican sources said today Pope Paul VI will soon create a commission to reform and modernize the curia, central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

India Wants To Buy U. S. Jet Fighters

WASHINGTON (AP)—India is asking the United States to sell it three squadrons of F104 Sabre jet supersonic fighters as part of the Indian defense build-up against Communist China, diplomatic sources said today.

The jets would cost an estimated $150 million.

While no decision has yet been reached, sources indicated the Indian request was running into State Department resistance on the grounds such a sale would upset U.S. relations with Pakistan.

EXPERTS DENY VULGAR WORDS IN NEW SONG

MIAMI (AP)—Teen-agers are spending a good bit of their time with their ears pressed against assorted loudspeakers, listening to dirty words in a song.

At least, they think they're listening to dirty words.

Most of the obscenities are in the listeners' minds. And juvenile authorities are worried. Juvenile Court Judge Ben J. Sheppard was horrified to find a scrap of school notebook paper on which a 14-year-old girl had penned—with obvious care, meticulously dotting her i's with circles—what purported to be the words of a popular rock 'n' roll number.

The song, recorded by a calypso group on a 45 rpm record, is played regularly on radio and can be bought at most record counters.

To the uninitiated, it sounds like gibberish. Only a few words are intelligible in the West Indian jargon.

The gimmick, Judge Sheppard was told, is to play the record at 33½ rpm. At the slow speed, the full impact of the vulgarities becomes clear.

"Taint so, Miami News reporters listened. Only the alleged four-letter Anglo-Saxonisms, and then only with the help of a copy of the alleged translation.

Ditto the state's attorney's office.

Federal communications commissioners, deluged by complaints from all over the country, listened to the record and reached the same conclusion.

"We played it at every speed from 16 rpm to 78," said the FCC official. "We could conclude only that it's an unintelligible calypso-type song. If you listen to it with a set of clean lyrics in front of you, you can convince yourself you're hearing those words. If you listen to it while reading a sheet of dirty lyrics, you can make yourself believe the sounds on the record match the words of the lyrics.

"We just can't convict anybody on evidence like that, and that is what we are telling the complainants," the official said.

It's not the first time, nor the last, psychologists say, that the public—particularly the sex-conscious adolescent public—has imagined dirt.

"You might call this a self-induced auditory illusion," said Dr. Samuel A. Feldman, chief psychologist for the Dade Juvenile Court Psychiatric Clinic.

Youth Charged On Third Forgery

HARLAN, Ky. — A forger shouldn't push his luck — especially when he's drawing on the county attorney's account.

A 19-year-old Harlan youth charged with forgery learned this the hard way when he showed up on Monday to try to cash a bogus check at a bank where he had passed two of them on Saturday.

The youth, who worked for the county attorney, fled when a teller spotted the bad signature, but was later arrested.

People In The News

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman didn't show up at his office Thursday and later his wife announced he had canceled a trip to Lexington, Va.

"He has a stomach upset and doesn't feel like making the trip," said Mrs. Truman.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru appeared today at his first news conference since he suffered a stroke last January.

Nehru seemed weaker than usual and at times his voice was barely audible. But when a newsman asked the 74-year-old prime minister whether or not it would be democratic for him to settle on someone to succeed him in his lifetime, Nehru replied with a broad smile: "My lifetime is not ending."

MOSCOW (AP)—Marlene Dietrich opened a Soviet tour to a sell-out audience that brought her back for 15 minutes of curtain calls.

The crowd of 1,350 in a Moscow variety theater included Yekaterina Furtseva, Soviet culture minister.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says the U.S. Supreme Court erred in even considering the issue of prayer and Bible reading in public schools.

"The Supreme Court was wrong in even tackling the problem," he said, "because now it will have to rule on chaplains in the armed forces, 'In God We Trust' on our coins, chaplains in Congress and even chaplains in the Supreme Court itself."

PAY FIRED TEACHER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The State Board of Education has upheld the appeal of a school teacher fired on charges involving class procedure and for calling pupils "wall-to-wall idiots."

The board held Thursday that Howard Weld, a science teacher at Stockbridge, until his dismissal March 23, must be paid for his present contract which runs for the rest of the year.

Reporter Says Polo Set Back 150 Years

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale's 168 polo victory over Georgetown was described by a Yale Daily News reporter as "the wildest, sloppiest, bloodiest duel of the season."

"This match set back the game of polo 150 years," Yale coach Al Marenholz moaned later.

The 140 spectators included Yale's president Kingman Brewster Jr. He offered no comment.

Diddle Leaves Red Towel For Oldham

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Ed Diddle, one of three college basketball coaches to post more than 700 victories, was widely known for his wig-wagging of a red towel during a game.

Diddle is retiring after next season, to be succeeded by a former player, John Oldham. But, not the towel.

"I'm going to ask Johnny to keep using the red towel," Diddle said.

Presbyterians Name Negro Pastor Chairman Of Board

By HUELL WARREN JR.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Edler G. Hawkins nervously fingered the two silver crosses, fused and hung from a long chain around his neck.

"Yes, I'll march on the line again," he said, "if the occasion demands it. One belonging to a minority has a kind of special understanding of what happens."

His eyes glistened and he measured his words. Of the 3.3 million members of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., he is one of the 5 percent who are Negroes; and the church's General Assembly had just elected him its moderator. For the first time, a Negro would be "chairman of the board" for a year and speak in unison with Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, the assembly's stated clerk and chief executive officer.

HEADS BRONX CHURCH

The Rev. Mr. Hawkins is 55, and in 26 years under his ministry St. Augustine Presbyterian Church in New York's Bronx has grown from nine members to more than a thousand.

His election will be more eloquent than any sermon," said J. Vernon Lloyd, an attorney from Danville, Calif., who put Hawkins in nomination and later was appointed vice moderator.

"In this measure at least," said Dr. Blake, "we have become color blind. It marks the direction in which the church intends to go."

OTHER CHURCHES ATTACK

United Presbyterian leaders are under attack from some of the Presbyteries for their part in racial demonstrations. Dr. Blake was arrested near Baltimore almost a year ago in a march on a segregated amusement park. And the Rev. Mr. Hawkins joined in demonstrations at a diner in the Bronx.

"We have a long way to go," the new moderator said, "and my first concern is to bring all the resources of our church to bear for the passage of the civil rights bill stalemated in the Senate."

HISTORY OF CROSSES

The fused Celtic crosses he fingered are a talisman of another major concern. The Presbyterian Church of Scotland gave the crosses several years ago to the moderators of the three main Presbyterian branches in the United States.

Two were fused after the merger which resulted in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in 1958. The other is held by the moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., the dominant body in the South.

The Rev. Mr. Hawkins, elected moderator Thursday, received 465 of the 833 votes in a contest with the Rev. A. Ray Cartledge of Erie, Pa.

The assembly continues through Thursday.

DALLAS PLANS KENNEDY MALL

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—People come in growing numbers to see where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated six months ago today.

There's not much to see. A sloping street disappearing under the triple overpass and, to the right, a simple park distinguished from others in the city only by the scattered bouquets on the grass.

Visitors estimated at 200 daily walk up the lawn to a curved white concrete colonnade, where more floral arrangements are propped.

Each spectator tries to capture, in his memory or in his camera, the path Kennedy was taking when he was shot from behind. They gauge the distance to the street from the top floor of the harsh red brick building on the hill, the Texas School Book Depository, from which police say Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots.

Two blocks from the park, on the downtown side of the County Jail, will be the city's memorial to Kennedy, a block-square plaza which officials hope to complete by 1966. A fund-raising drive will begin May 29, Kennedy's birthday. School children and others have already donated about $15,000.

HOT WEATHER MOVING EAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably hot weather that sent temperatures to record high marks for the date in many Midwest areas Thursday moved eastward today, indicating an end of a cool spell in some eastern sections of the nation.

The midsummer heat covered most of the Plains and Midwest with temperatures in the 80s and 90s. In North Dakota the mercury hit the 100-degree mark in Grand Forks and 98 in Fargo, record high marks for May 21. Minnesota also reported top marks for the date, including 95 International Falls, on the Canadian border.

Readings were in the 100-degree level in the Southwest desert region Thursday for the fourth straight day.

Some cooler air appeared headed into the northern Plains as the hot air spread eastward and was expected to extend and was expected to extend over the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and the Middle and North Atlantic States.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

SCHOOL PRAYERS: A Roman Catholic law professor says the record of the Supreme Court in the area of freedom of religion and church-state relations has been very good.

It would be neither desirable nor wise to amend the Constitution to undo the courts' school Bible reading and prayer decisions, adds Prof. Chester J. Antieau, who teaches constitutional law at Georgetown University.

Antieau testified Thursday before the House Judiciary Committee, which wound up its fifth week of hearings on a variety of proposed amendments which were prompted by the courts' ban on public school religious exercises. The hearings are now in recess until Wednesday.

PASSPORTS: A bill to extend the validity of the passport to five years and raise its price by a dollar was introduced in the House Thursday.

American citizens now can get passports initially valid for three years, plus a single two-year extension upon application for a renewal. The fee is $8.

CATHOLIC MASS: Decrees authorizing extensive use of English in the Roman Catholic Mass and other of the church rituals in the United States were made public Thursday.

The changes will go into effect later in the year after publication and distribution of new liturgical books, his may not be until the start of the church year, Advent Sunday, Nov. 29.

LBJ MEN BRIEF SCRANTON ON WORLD AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania is the second possible Republican presidential candidate to be briefed on world affairs by leaders in the Johnson administration.

But Scranton said Thursday after the briefing he hasn't changed his mind and that he is not a candidate for the nomination. He said he accepted the offer for the briefing because "I have tremendous intellectual curiosity about this."

New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is the other possible Republican nominee who has been briefed.

PEOPLE WELL INFORMED

Scranton said he does not think the American people are being deprived of any information they should have. "Generally the people are very well informed," said Scranton.

"I don't think the American people is being purposely misled or necessarily misled," he added. Gov. Rockefeller said he thought the public was being misled about Viet Nam.

The governor called on President Johnson after the briefing. He said he was reassured the administration will press for approval of the $228 million aid to Appalachia program.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and former Vice President Richard Nixon have refused the briefings. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Harold Stassen, Philadelphia lawyer, have accepted.

Smoking Returns Sizable Profit

CHICAGO (AP) — Smoking, despite its physical hazards on humans, turns a sizable profit for the Internal Revenue Service.

Revenue from tobacco taxes rose to a record $2.1 billion during 1963.

The 47 states which levy a tobacco tax collected an additional $1.1 billion during the year for a new record amount.

The federal government's collections from tobacco taxes were $400 million higher than in 1953.

New York collected $123.6 million last year and more than doubled its decade-ago tobacco tax figure of $61.6 million.

California didn't tax tobacco in 1953. It took $70.5 million from this source in 1963.

SEES TROUBLE IF GOLDWATER WINS TOP SPOT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert J. Corbett, the dean of Pennsylvania GOP House members says his Republican colleagues would have trouble winning re-election if Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona was the GOP presidential candidate this year.

Corbett made the remark Thursday after a reception given Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania by the state GOP House members.

Corbett said about five House members again urged Scranton to become an active candidate for the nomination and he described Scranton's reaction as "appreciative."

Corbett said unless a moderate identical candidates this year, these Pennsylvania House members will be in trouble in November.

Rep. James D. Weaver, Willard S. Curtin, John P. Saylor, George A. Goodling, Joseph M. McDade, James G. Fulton, and himself.

He said the first four—Weaver, Curtin, Saylor and Goodling—could be defeated. He added that Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., also would be in serious re-election trouble if Goldwater is the candidate.

MACBETH TOPS PUPIL CHOICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comic books, television and other forms of instant culture notwithstanding, American high school students still are getting substantial exposure to good literature.

That's the conclusion to be drawn from a recent survey by the Educational Testing Service. ETS asked 691 public, Roman Catholic and independent high schools across the country what major works of literature they offer their students.

Shakespeare, in this 400th anniversary of his birth, had the two top entries in all three categories of schools—"Macbeth" and "Julius Caesar."

The most popular works of literature in the public schools, those taught in at least 30 per cent of the schools surveyed, are: "Macbeth" 90 per cent, "Julius Caesar" 77, "Silas Marner" 76, "Our Town" 46, "Great

BROOKE SEEKS RE-ELECTION

BOSTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke announced Thursday he is a candidate for a second term, but at the same time he didn't rule out the possibility he may run for the Republican nomination for governor.

Brooke, a Negro, holds the highest elective state office of any member of his race in the nation.

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general," Brooke said in a statement issued at a news conference.

He added at a news conference that "in the event the delegates at the Republican State Convention consider I can best serve the Republican party and the people of Massachusetts as a candidate for governor, and if there is a stalemate, I would permit my name to be placed in nomination on the second ballot."

Republican state conventions in the past have banned the entry of additional candidates after balloting began. Brooke said he will seek to have that rule dropped at the convention June 19 and 20.

The Republicans already have three announced candidates for the gubernatorial nomination, former Gov. John A. Volpe, Sen. Phillip A. Graham of Hamilton, and Francis C. Perry, a former member of the House from Duxbury.

GOP LEADERS ARE GATHERING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania Republican leaders concerned themselves with selection of national committee members and plans for the party's national convention as they arrived here today for two days of meetings.

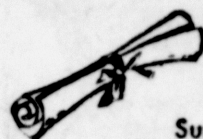

The delegates were set to select Gov. Scranton as chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation. The state's 113-member state committee meets Saturday and is expected to reelect Craig Truax to a two-year term as state chairman.

Truax said Thursday the leaders would select Thomas B. McCabe, board chairman of the Scott Paper Co., and one of the governor's political advisors, to the post of national committeeman.

A contest was shaping up, however, for the post of national committeewoman.

Erhard's Daily Date

Lunch With Lulu

By CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP) —

Laise Erhard, wife of West Germany's chancellor, is a motherly lady in her mid-60's with a solid university degree in business administration to her credit.

Consequently, she is quite up to a discussion on economics with her husband, Ludwig Erhard, the man considered to be the architect of the country's postwar prosperity.

His predecessor, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, gave him the post of economic minister when the Bonn government was formed in September, 1949. Then Adenauer's retirement brought the number 2 man into the number 1 position.

But like most wives of the German politicians Laise Erhard stays in the background.

A WAR WIDOW

Ludwig "Lulu" Erhard and Laise "Lu" Lotter were childhood friends in the little Bavarian town of Fuerth. They met again at the Nuernberg Trade Institute after World War I. By then she was a war widow with a little daughter, he a badly wounded veteran.

They were graduated in the same class and married that year — 1923.

The six-room house they rent now, on a hill overlooking Bonn, still has much of the furniture with which they began their married life in a little apartment near Fuerth. An official residence for the chancellor is being built but will not be ready for some months.

BREAKFAST IN BED

At 2 p.m. Erhard usually goes home for lunch with her, only about a 10-minute drive in his official black Mercedes with a one-car police escort.

But breakfast together? Never. Like Clementine Churchill, who often remarked that if Winston and she had breakfast together they would not have remained married, Laise Erhard never breakfasts with Ludwig unless they are on vacations.

Emmitsburg

MRS. RALPH LONG

HI 7-2231

EMMITSBURG — Sixteen members attended a meeting of the Auxiliary of Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion, Tuesday evening in the post home.

President Anna Bushman announced that three members had attended the post presidents and commanders district reception in Westminster. Donations of $5 each were voted for the Cancer Fund and the local high schools for prizes in American history at graduation and $2 to ways and means. Several thank-you notes were read and reports were given on clinic hours, baby-sitting, sending cards and library work.

Diane Small won the draw prize and Nettie Saffer's name was called for the door prize but she was not present. The following were nominated for re-election: President, Anna Bushman; first vice president, Anna Topper; second vice president, Margaret Brown; secretary, Virginia Sandcism? No—if there is anybody fit to criticize him, they must be people whose job it is more than mine."

BROKEN FAMILIES

She also can furnish him first hand data. She is to be seen regularly in Bonn's old market square, filling her shopping bag among hundreds of other housewives.

Frau Erhard's two daughters — one by her first marriage, one by Erhard — are both married. A nephew of hers lives with them, a student at Bonn University; specialty, economics.

Her main interest is the care of children who come from broken families, or who have been taken from their parents by court order. She keeps a special eye on "children's villages," which resemble the "Boys' Towns" familiar in some other countries.

"No government," she says "can do anything about selfishness and personal inadequacy — not all unfortunate circumstances can be changed by action from above."

Next: Mrs. Khrushchev.

ers; treasurer, Melva Hardman; chaplain, Anna Shorb; historian, Carmen Topper; sergeant at arms, Loretta Hardman. The annual memorial service will be held in St. Joseph's Church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Members will meet at the post home and join the men to attend the services in a body.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gebhart and family have moved from the Myers property on the Irishtown Rd. to the property they purchased from Ray Long near Toms Creek Church. Mr. and Mrs. Whitey Welch and family have moved from the hotel or the square to the Myers property vacated by the Gebharts.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sanders have returned home after spending several days with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Mick and family, Milford, Del.

A surprise baby shower was given for Mrs. Betty Stultz Monday evening by Mrs. Nancy Topper and Miss Judy Topper at the home of Miss Topper. Guests were: Mrs. Anne Little, Mrs. Joyce Orndorff, Mrs. Virginia Ridenour, Mrs. Kathryn Kime, Mrs. Kathryn Kelly, Mrs. Virginia Knox and children, Mrs.

Margaret Kelly, Mrs. Anna Mae Topper, Mrs. Ruth Kelly, Mrs. Gloria Cullison, Miss Katie Kime, Miss Diana Pryor, Miss Kathy Etheridge, Miss Nancy Starnier, Miss Nancy Wetzel, Miss Linda Topper and Mrs. Gladys Topper. Those who sent gifts but were unable to attend were: Mrs. Kathleen Shorb, Mrs. Mary Overholzer, Mrs. Loretta Myers, Mrs. Francis Topper and Miss Catherine Althoff.

The annual May procession was held Sunday evening in St. Joseph's Church. In the line of procession were: Cross bearer, acolytes, altar boys; first communicants, Mother Seton School students, St. Joseph's High School undergraduates, Sodality members, Holy Name men, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, high school seniors, attendants, crown bearer and the May queen, Miss Rosemary Lewis, a senior of St. Joseph's High School and president of the Children of Mary crowned the statue of the Blessed Virgin followed by the act of consecration, a short sermon by the pastor, Rev. Louis Storms, and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Crown bearer was Susan Sanders and pages were Eddie Hobbs and Jeffrey Miller.

Orrtanna

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

642 - 8203

ORRTANNA — Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wentz and sons, Stephen and Dennis, Hanover R. 2, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chapman, parents of Mrs. Wentz.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lewis and family, Thurmont, spent Sunday with Earl Singley, father of Mrs. Lewis.

Harold Wilkinson moved last week from Orrtanna R. D. to Waynesboro where he has secured employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herring, Oscar Cassatt and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Cassatt and son, Mike, spent the weekend at their cottage at Dickerson, Md., on a fishing trip.

Mrs. Luther Wetzel, Orrtanna R. D., and Wendell Wetzel, Aspers, visited the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. Odessa Baltzley, Stewartstown, who is a patient at the York Hospital having submitted to surgery there on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Baltzley's condition is favorable.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)— Syria's ruling Baath Socialist party Wednesday night proposed the establishment of a Palestinian Arab state with sovereignty over the west bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

The Arab-held old quarter of Jerusalem was proposed as the capital.

The United Arab Republic occupies the Gaza Strip, while the Kingdom of Jordan has held the west bank of the river and the old quarter of Jerusalem since the Palestine War. Israel separates the two territories.

The Syrian party also proposed formation of an independent Palestinian army on a basis of equality with the armies of the Arab nations.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

Go on an economy drive this vacation

Sure you can just about run a Chevy II on peanuts. But don't let its economy fool you. This family car can take the whole gang along on any trip you want to make. In plenty of comfort and a whole lot of style.

Its range of power makes fun out of turnpikes and mountain roads alike. (Makes each gallon of gas work overtime, too!) Inside, a Chevy II Nova is tailored for travel. Child-proof upholstery, trip-size trunk and glove box, dual sun visors and deep-twist carpeting are just a few standard features.

That roomy, rugged Body by Fisher is as easy to look after as it is to look at. In fact, Chevy II virtually cares for itself with a battery-saving Delcotron generator, self-adjusting brakes, long-life muffler and self-cleaning rocker panels that help prevent rust by flushing out salt and other corrosives.

There's a Chevy II for everyone—sedans, wagons and sport models. A price for everyone, too. Because now is Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's. Time to get the most fun from your new car, and make a great deal on your old one!

Of course you're not supposed to be so practical when you plan a vacation. But being this practical won't spoil a bit of the fun. Should add to it, in fact, for the rest of the year. And that's about fifty weeks' worth. Every year.

Rev. James J. Leshner, pastor. Worship at 9:30 a.m. with Sunday School following immediately.

One of the things that strikes us about Jesus is His concern for every aspect of human need. The disciples had come back from a preaching tour, a little tired and strained. On top of this had come the news of the death of John the Baptist. They were naturally depressed and doubts began to overshadow their minds. It was the kind of mood in which we are all likely to see the black side of things and to wonder if the spiritual conflict is worth while. Jesus knew that their sheer physical fatigue was responsible for their reaction. A few days' rest of body and mind may sometimes enable us to get back our poise. So Jesus took them away by themselves into a quiet place to rest. But the great point was that He was with them. It was His presence that enabled them to relax. They could leave their burdens to Him. Most of us, we are told, work a long way below our potential capacity. But to keep touch with these resources of the spirit, which are of God, we must take time to make and to restore the contact with Him. That can only be done as we take time to come apart from the world with Him. "RECOVER OUR SENSE" In that quiet hour several things will happen. For one thing, we recover our sense of proportion. We see the things that worry us in their true perspective. We realize how small they often are. It is in the quiet place with God that doubts are often best put to silence. In the quiet hour, the reality of God's love in Christ has power to reach the heart. We know afresh that He lives and that His love is the reality which can never be defeated or destroyed. Our great need today is to open our minds and hearts to the other world, the world that is unseen and eternal. Most of us live too much in the world of time. Passing events absorb the mind. We listen to news bulletins one after another. Our minds become a prey to rumors that breed false hopes and lying fears. It is so easy to lose perspective and to forget that the supreme reality is God and His Kingdom. Our real business is the same as it always was. It is to do His will. "KINDLE HOPE"

We cannot live without inspiration of some kind — something to cheer or encourage or kindle hope. During the summer drought one year it was noted that the reservoir water supply had maintained its full level. While the drought had at one time drained it to a low level the rains had now come and the level was to the top and almost running over. However officials still found cause for alarm. The reason for their alarm was that the hidden springs which kept the water supply high were not yet active. They had not begun to flow. The water that filled the reservoir was only from surface streams. It would not meet the need. So many of us are like that. We live on surface inspirations, little bits of cheer and friendship which carry us through. But the deeper springs in the heart have never been set flowing. These only rise within us when we take time to come apart with God.

Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant? Already Bobbie's parents are planning for his future. They're saving to give him the best education obtainable, because they want him to be happy and successful . . . a son to be proud of.

It would be splendid if a good education automatically led to happiness and success, but unfortunately it doesn't. Many well-educated men and women have failed utterly when it came to living a stable and worthwhile life, because they lacked the strength of character that would have sustained them.

There is no better training ground for the building of character than the Christian Church. There children are encouraged to follow a way of life that will not fail them, and to respect themselves and their fellows.

Give your child every chance to succeed. Make sure that his education includes a thorough knowledge of the time-tested Christian truths.

House Adds $2.3 Million In Aid To State Colleges

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's 14 state colleges apparently are finding some newly won friends for themselves in Harrisburg—in and out of the General Assembly.

This increasing tide of support may signal a new era in the public debate over state aid to higher education, particularly as it pertains to state colleges vs. private universities.

Both the state colleges and the private universities — such as such as Pitt, Penn and Penn State—come to the legislature each year in search of more state money.

There is a sentiment in some quarters that the state colleges — the commonwealth's own institutions of higher learning — are being short changed in favor of the private schools.

That sentiment has been noted in the legislature in the past. But the proponents of more aid to state colleges have not been large enough in number or influential enough in power to do much to advance their cause.

Until last week.

INCREASE REQUEST
The House, much to the surprise of the Scranton administration, voted to add $2.3 million to the $19.3 million recommended by the governor for the state colleges in fiscal 1964-65.

The action, approved by an overwhelming vote of 151-25, was taken despite the protestations of appropriations chairman Blaine C. Hocker, R-Dauphin, who said there was no money in the budget to cover the increase.

SHORT OF REQUESTS

The $2.3 million fell just about $200,000 short of what the state colleges themselves asked be added to their appropriation when they appeared before the Appropriations Committee to make their money pitch.

Part of the reason for this unexpected wave of legislative support for the state colleges can be attributed to normal election-year politics.

No legislator up for re-election in November can be blamed for voting more money to the state colleges. On the other hand, refusing to do this could be fuel for his opponent to burn in a campaign.

But there is another factor involved here beside a strict political consideration.

MOUNTING SENTIMENT

That is the mounting belief in legislative and education circles that the state colleges deserve more from state government than they previously had been getting.

The argument is being raised more and more by state college supporters that the schools received only 25 per cent of the state aid to higher education this fiscal year.

Private colleges and universities, on the other hand, received 36 per cent of the higher education allocation.

Take Penn State alone, with 10,000 less students than the total enrollment at the state colleges.

The university received $8 million more than the state colleges this fiscal year.

FAVOR STATE SCHOOLS

The proponents are not so much opposed to the private aid as they argue in favor of more aid for the state colleges.

They carry their argument in to the question of autonomy, too. The pro-state college people note that money approved for the private schools is theirs to spend as they see fit.

The state colleges, meanwhile, are subject to strict budget control. Any expenditure must be approved by the budget office.

Any money they have remaining at the end of the fiscal year automatically reverts to the general fund as a lapsed appropriation.

The state colleges want more leeway in this spending field, especially for routine expenditures. They also want to retain any money they might have remaining at the end of the year.

LONDON (AP) — The Mods and Rockers, Britain's rival teen-age cults, battled in main streets of at least 10 London suburbs Wednesday night. More than 50 youngsters were arrested.

Police used 40 dogs to break up a battle in Peckham.

Fighting between the Mods—short for moderns—and Rockers began during the Easter weekend and erupted in full force at South Coast resorts during last weekend's three-day Whitsun holiday.

The Mods won the battle of the beaches, and the Rockers are looking for revenge.

CITY STREET IS FRIDAY NIGHT YOUTH ARENA

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is Hollywood Boulevard—and the boulevard will be swinging tonight, this being Friday.

The convergence of teen-agers each week has become a local ritual that is a bothe for residents and a headache for the police.

Nobody knows how it started. Two or three years ago, crowds of kids began appearing on the boulevard on Friday nights.

Their numbers grew until the boulevard would become a bumper-to-bumper mass of hot rods and family cars packed with youngsters out for fun—or trouble.

"LONELY HEARTS CLUB"

"Friday night is a problem," says Police Capt. Otho C. Woods. "It has become a mobile lonely hearts club, with carloads of boys driving up and down the boulevard trying to make contact with carloads of girls."

"We have to police the boulevard pretty closely. When you get that many kids together in one area, there is bound to be some trouble. The patrolmen watch for thrown eggs, hoodlums and faulty equipment on cars. And we have to keep traffic moving, which is pretty difficult at times."

What attracts the kids to Hollywood is a puzzle. Most of them seem to come from outlying areas—the San Fernando Valley, West Los Angeles, the East Side—in search of excitement. Hollywood is a central location and the magic of the name lends allure.

But, as one veteran police officer remarked, "there isn't a damned thing for them to do when they get here."

Ten is the curfew hour in Los Angeles and the crowd begins to lessen. By midnight the teen-agers have returned home or to other haunts, and the old-timers who people the hotels and rooming houses can reclaim the boulevard.

The intensity of the invasion is oddly seasonal.

"The last two months of the year are the most critical," reported Woods. "The kids descend in greater numbers then, and we have to put four to six two-man mobile units in the field. The rest of the time we can get by with half that number."

He had no explanation why November and December bring a greater influx. It might be the rah-rah spirit of the football season, or the attraction of Christmas. It might be anything.

PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT ASSISTANT

A challenging position for the June graduate or recent graduate who has majored in Personnel or Industrial Management. A large Hospital in Central Pennsylvania is looking for a man who is interested in learning all phases of Personnel Administration. Can lead to top position. Salary commensurate with education and training. Liberal fringe benefits. State fully education, any experience and give references in your reply to Box "34-W" c/o The Gettysburg Times.

Swiss Abolish Tariffs On Tea

BERNE, Switzerland (AP) — Berne authorities in agreement with the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and the European Trade Association recently announced the abolition of all duties on tea, so that Switzerland may soon be the country serving the cheapest "cuppa" ever.

The Indian Embassy immediately launched a campaign promoting Indian tea, with young Indians in national costumes distributing leaflets and free samples. Lovers of China tea were expected to get the same service.

Woman Demands Home Delivery

WEST ALLIS, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Richard Grohall, 32, called Mayor Arnold H. Kientz on Wednesday, demanding he arrange to have some groceries delivered to her home.

The mayor said he couldn't do that, but he did call a meeting of public works officials to consider the Grohall family problem.

Mrs. Grohall said an alley paving project isolated her in her own home. "Trapped" with her, she said, were daughters Debra, 6, and Dianne, 3; her brother, Earl, and her mother, Mrs. Paul Ermis.

Her husband, a construction worker, got his truck out and went to work before the alley connecting their property to city streets was torn up.

A road leading to the Grohalls' one-acre lot was closed when a subdivider purchased the surrounding acres. When the alley was torn up for paving, that left the family with at least a three-block walk over private property to a public road.

A city official said she would be trespassing if she attempted the walk, Mrs. Grohall said.

EIGHT KILLED IN BAHAMAS

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A man with a shotgun rampaged through Nassau's southern suburbs Wednesday night killing seven persons — including himself — and wounding six in a two-hour automobile foray.

"It was one of the worst nights in my experience," said Chief Criminal Investigator Stanley Moir.

Dozens of police, who had cordoned off a two-square-mile area and searched it in vain for the slayer, found Ruben Rolle, 30, in his home, dead of shotgun wounds. The weapon lay nearby.

Police Commissioner Nigel Morris said authorities did not establish a motive immediately but "the first person he shot was his wife."

Police said Rolle went berserk, took a friend's automobile and roared through South Nassau, leaving a wake of bodies, and terrified telephone callers beseeching police help.

All those slain except Mrs. Rolle were men. The hospitalized people all were neighbors. Police hoped some would be able to give them an inkling of what touched off the shootings.

The bloody shooting spree indirectly brought about one additional death. Alfred Ginton, a resident who went to the aid of wounded victims, dropped dead apparently from a heart attack induced by excitement.

Rolle, a carpenter, and all his victims were Negroes.

He found Ira Williams, Lee's son, who told him to forget the 50-year-old debt.
